Demo Liberals Bemoan Move To Capture Dixie Votes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy formally accepts the Democratic presidential nomination tonight, with party liberals bemoaning his endorsement of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate.

In a dramatic but highly traditional decision yesterday Kennedy compromised with the political realties of a threatened Southern bolt and wheeled in Johnson, the majority leader of the Senate, as his vice presidential nominee.

The Massachusetts senator thus took a practical step toward quieting a growing Dixie rebellion. But he repeated in return some protests from party liberals who felt they had been influential in his top-place nomination and deserved better of their efforts than a middle-of-the-road vice presidential candidate.

Kennedy could placate these dissenters, however, with a liberal acceptance speech tonight and the choice of one of this group to succeed Paul M. Butler as the party's national chairman. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington was tabbed as a leading candidate for this job.

There was one report, quickly denied by both the Kennedy and Johnson camps, that Johnson was chosen at his own insistence. The report came from John S. Knight, publisher of the Knight newspapers, in a copyrighted story he wrote for his newspapers.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, described the report as "completely and absolutely untrue."

Knight wrote that Johnson had passed the word to Sen. Kennedy's brother Robert that, having been defeated by Kennedy for the presidential nomination, he wanted second place and would fight for it on the floor of the convention if necessary.

Confronted with this, Knight said, the presidential nominee agreed to take Johnson. The latter has tossed off some nasty cracks about the Massachusetts senator's immaturity in the face of a demand for world leadership from the presidential office.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who urged Johnson not to take second place, shook his head and sighed a little sadly at the outcome which was formally ratified by the Democratic convention last night.

Whatever his motives, by the introduction of Johnson's name on the ticket Kennedy appeared to have softened a movement to deny him the vote of several Southern states.

Kennedy could deal with the complaining liberals of the party. They had no organizations to deny him the electoral vote of any state.

Tonight's formal acceptance ceremonies take the form of a big show with its Hollywood stars and premiere lights, its thundering thousands of spectators and its nation-spanning coverage by television, radio and the newspapers.

Sen. Kennedy Issues Platform Invitation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy today invited all Democratic governors and senators to share the platform with him tonight for his acceptance speech in the huge Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

The Democratic presidential nominee also included in his invitation all other nominees for the top spot who lost out in the balloting Wednesday night, as well as all former chairmen of the Democratic National Committee.

One of Kennedy's losing rivals, Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington, visited the nominee today and offered to campaign for him. Kennedy said he asked Symington to "be available."

"I am going to rely on him heavily," Kennedy said.

The former chairmen are Frank McKinney, William Boyle, James A. Farley and Stephen A. Mitchell.

Kennedy's office said he did not single out any senators or governors for special invitations, but issued the same invitation to all.

Kennedy arrived fresh and rested looking at his downtown headquarters in the hotel suite, and conferred briefly with friends before launching into a busy day's schedule.

Kennedy and Symington jointly spoke to newsmen after their brief visit at Kennedy's headquarters hotel suite.

Symington said he congratulated Kennedy and "assured him complete support." He said he told Kennedy "how important it is for the future of our country that he be elected president of the United States."

GOP Again Says Demo Parley Rigged

CHICAGO (UPI) — Republicans preparing to take over the political stage with the opening of their Chicago convention hurled new "rigging" charges at the Democratic Kennedy-Johnson ticket today.

Jaren L. Jones, vice chairman of the GOP convention committee, recalled that Republican Party Chairman Sen. Thruston Morton made that charge as far back as June 30.

STORES OPEN LATE; SALES EVENTS, TOO

Stores will be open until 9 o'clock tonight in San Rafael, Corde Madera Center, Novato and San Anselmo.

Marin Judges To Get 5% Salary Hikes

Judges in superior and municipal courts in Marin will get a 5 per cent "cost of living increase" in salary beginning this month, under a ruling announced today by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

This means Marin Superior Court judges' salaries will go up from $20,000 to $21,000, and municipal court judges from $16,000 to $16,800.

A general 5 per cent salary increase was voted by the last Legislature for state officers and civil service employees. The attorney general ruled that superior and municipal court judges come under the term "state officers" and are thus entitled to the 5 per cent cost-of-living raise.

No mention is made of the judge of the Northwest Judicial District of Marin County.

Roaming TB Patient Faces Health Charge

An active tuberculosis patient, ordered to isolate himself in his Corte Madera home more than three months ago, has been roaming at will and even went so far as to get married in Reno, it was disclosed today.

The case came to light with the filing of a criminal complaint in municipal court against Walter K. Seavey, 50, retired, who lives at 51 Alta Terrace, Corte Madera.

Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer, conferred with Judge N. Charles Brusatori and Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth this morning and decided she would have Seavey picked up and confined immediately under authority granted to health officers by the state health and safety code. Seavey will probably be taken to the tuberculosis ward at Napa State Hospital.

Roth said the district attorney plans to prosecute Seavey for violation of the health and safety code in not complying with orders of the county health officer.

Last March 30, Seavey, who lived alone, was ordered by Dr. Albrecht to isolate himself at his home. Provisions were made for the doctor and delivery men to visit his home.

Roth said he was informed Seavey was seen in local grocery stores making purchases. Then on May 29, Seavey went to Reno and married a Pearl Ragle of San Bruno.

Miss Ragle is now planning to get an annulment.

Congo Rebels Reported Yielding To U.N. Forces

Nikita In Ominous Aid Offer

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today denounced "aggressors in the Congo" and offerred the violence-torn African nation "any assistance which might be necessary."

The message was contained in an answer by Khrushchev to a note sent by Congo President Joseph Kasa Vubu implying he would ask the Soviet Union for "intervention . . . if the Western camp does not desist from aggression against the sovereignty of the Congo," according to the Soviet news agency Tass.

The Soviet leader's note said that if the "aggression" continues the Russians would find it necessary "to take more serious measures" to aid the Congolese.

(In Brussels, the Belgian government rejected "with contempt" a Soviet note denouncing Belgium's "interference" in the Congo and said the protest was "offensive." The rejection said that when Belgium gave the Congo its independence it trusted the new government to protect its citizens and other Europeans who remained there. "This trust was destroyed," the note said.)

The Communitst party newspaper Pravda reported today for the first time that the Congo had turned to the United Nations for help in putting down the disorders caused primarily by the mutinous army.

LAWRENCE TIBBETT
Curtain comes down

Tibbett, 63, Dies; Famed Opera Singer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lawrence Tibbett, 63, former Metropolitan Opera baritone who once ranked as one of the world's most popular singers, died at Roosevelt Hospital today 17 days after undergoing head surgery.

Tibbett had been unconscious since the operation was performed June 29 to correct an old head injury.

The singing giant had been idle in recent years, but he left behind a record equalled by few operatic greats.

Tibett was known as "Mr. American Baritone" for many years.

Premier Blasts U.S., Orders Belgians Out

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Mutinous Congolese troops in the Leopoldville area laid down their arms today while the first United Nations peace forces were arriving, the Belgian Radio said in Brussels.

The broadcast quoted the senior United Nations officer on the scene, where three planeloads of U.N. troops from Tunisia and one from Ghana landed earlier in the day.

The announcement came shortly after Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba attacked the United States and charged that "Belgian troops are massacring Congolese citizens and we are in a state of war."

He ordered the Belgians out of the country within 12 hours, and said that if the U.N. forces had come with the idea of collaborating with them, they should be sent back promptly.

SOVIET BLAST

Shortly before that the Soviet Union blasted the West for its "imperialist aggression" against the Congo, warned the Western nations it would take things into its own hands if they did not get out, and promised the Congo all possible help to preserve its independence.

Lumumba told parliament in Leopoldville that he has demanded the withdrawal of Belgian troops by 1 a.m. tomorrow.

But the Belgians showed no sign of complying with his demand, and Ghana Maj. Gen. Henry Alexander said he expected friendly cooperation between the Belgian and U.N. forces.

'SAVE NATION'

"To save the nation we are ready to make a pact with the devil himself, but not with Belgium," Lumumba said.

He also charged the United States "with supporting the Belgian policy."

"The United States' delegation in the United Nations backed the Belgian request that Belgian troops should be permitted to stay in the Congo," he said.

Actually, the United States voted for the resolution setting up the U.N. force for the Congo and asking the Belgians to leave.

STANDING BY

The estimated 300 soldiers from Tunisia and 80 from Ghana were airlifted to the troubled Congo republic aboard U.S. Air Force planes.

At United Nations headquarters in New York, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold said other units offered to the U.N. force by Tunisia, Ghana, Morocco and Ethiopia were standing by to be flown into Leopoldville.

The ultimate size of the U.N. force in the Congo still has not been announced.

In Leopoldville, British Gen. Alexander personally made the first U.N. intervention in the Congo when he ordered Congolese police to break up a mob of Africans besieging the house of a Portuguese reported to have killed a native.

"I am de facto commander of the United Nations forces until Gen. Carl Carlsson Von Horn arrives," Alexander said. Von Horn is head of the U.N. truce supervision organization in Jerusalem. Von Horn has been named commander of the U.N. force in the Congo.

The wave of rioting, pillaging, looting and raping seemed at a temporary end.

Bolinas, Mill Valley Safes Burgled; $650 Total Taken

Two safe burglaries were reported in South Marin today —one a "burn job," the other a "punch job."

A safe-cracker who punched out the safe's dial got about $450 in currency from a heavy safe at Pepper's store in Bolinas.

One who burned a hole in the door of the safe got between $150 and $200 from a safe at Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet in Mill Valley.

Deputy Sheriff William Bradford said John R. Pepper arrived at his store about 9 a.m. today to find the front door had been forced. Inside, he found the safe cracked.

The burglar had used tools found in the store to knock off the dial. He left a jacket, which Bradford said apparently was used to muffle the sound.

About the same time Pepper made his discovery, employees at Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet found the safe opened there.

The burglar had entered through a rear window, by pushing aside a ventilator fan. And, like the Bolinas burglar, he had made use of tools found on the premises—in this case, an acetylene torch which he used to burn a three-inch hole through the door of the safe, Mill Valley police reported.

The Mill Valley burglar also left behind a piece of clothing —a beige sport coat.

Johnson: Big Surprise To Demos

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, 51, the Texan who is the Democratic leader of the Senate, stood out today as the big surprise of his party's 1960 convention.

The surprise was not that his bid for the presidential nomination failed; rather, it was that he is coming out of the convention as the vice presidential candidate.

Few expected that he would accept second place on the ticket, even if it were offered to him, although he had never slammed the door on this possibility.

But there he was in the glare of the convention hall last night, after his nomination, saying, "I am proud to stand beside and to stand behind the next president of the United States, Jack Kennedy."

What had happened after Kennedy, 43, Massachusetts senator, had soundly trounced him in the battle for the presidential nomination?

The sequence of events, as pieced together from Johnson and from other sources in and out of the Kennedy camp, was clear.

Yesterday morning Kennedy sounded Johnson out on taking the No. 2 spot on the ticket but didn't offer it to him.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Johnson's fellow Texan and longtime political mentor, was opposed to Johnson's running for vice president, fearing it might be a dead end for him politically.

Johnson apparently let Kennedy know this because a short time later Kennedy slipped away to Rayburn's nearby hotel suite. In the end Rayburn was won over, but not without some reluctance.

After seeing Rayburn, Kennedy returned to his own hotel suite where Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, Carmine DeSapio of New York and other party leaders who played a major part in Kennedy's nomination were gathered.

A decision was reached that Johnson would strengthen the ticket the most. Other possibilities, such as Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. Harry M. Jackson of Washington, and Gov. Rorville L. Freeman of Minnesota, were discarded.

Word of the decision was relayed to Johnson by telephone, but it was only a few minutes before the news was made public, shortly after 4 p.m., that the Texan had agreed to accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Johnson Choice Splits Delegation

By CHAPIN A. DAY

LOS ANGELES—The California delegation split down the middle on Sen. Lyndon Johnson's nomination for vice president. The leaders of the delegation praised Johnson. Gov. Edmund G. Brown called him "a strong and splendid American" who will "bring real strength to the campaign." Brown noted Johnson "has pledged full support to the great civil rights plank of our platform."

Sen. Clair Engle, chairman of the California delegation and a supporter of Stuart Symington for both the presidency and the vice presidency, also backed the Texas senator. He said Johnson would "add luster" to the Democratic ticket and "maximize his appeal."

Johnson's "mature judgment, broad knowledge of domestic and world affairs and his time tested and proved ability to lead, to persuade, to convince, to elicit cooperation are indispensible to us," Engle said.

But other California delegates weren't as enthusiastic. A petition calling for a caucus of the delegation to consider action regarding the vice presidential nomination quickly got the needed 20 per cent of the delegations signatures. But there seemed to be no way in which they could voice their objections. No other candidate was being offered. So the petition was never presented to the delegation chairman.

Delegate Milton Gordon of Los Angeles, one of the sponsors of the petition, said the delegates "were not elated about going out and getting votes for such a ticket." He was for Adlai Stevenson for president, but said many people who were for Kennedy are now embarrassed by the presence of Johnson. In my opinion if the delegates of California had had a choice, the vote would have been overwhelmingly for Stuart Symington for vice president."

Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, vice chairman of the delegation, wasn't too happy either. He too favored Symingington, but said Johnson would "help in some areas and hurt us in others." If the roll of the states had been called, he declared, "there would have been a substantial number of abstentions from California."

Two other Marin representatives were not ecstatic either. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, national committeewoman, said Kennedy and Johnson "will make a strong ticket, period." She had no other comment. Harold Morgan, the county's alternate, said the Democrats can win in November "with these two great men."

The other two main delegates, Mrs. Nancy Swadesh and William M. Roth, were not on the floor during the nominating procedure.

At least two California delegates, known to strenuously oppose the Johnson nomination, Sen. Richard Richards of Los Angeles and Paul Zifren, national committeeman, left the hall before the nomination speeches and vote for vice president.

Another critical delegate was W. Byron Rumford of Berkeley, one of two Negroes in the state assembly. Asked if a substantial number of California's Negro Democrats would vote for Richard Nixon because of the Johnson on the Democratic ticket, Rumford answered:

"Oh yes, definitely so. It would depend, of course, on who is Nixon's running mate. Nixon has no great civil-rights record himself, you know."

In the end, however, the dissident Californians had no way to voice their opposition. Johnson was shouted into candidacy by voice vote and the no's were disregarded.

Germany To Pay French Indemnity

PARIS (AP)—France and West Germany today signed an agreement for West Germany to pay 400 million marks (about 94 million dollars) indemnity to Frenchmen imprisoned in Nazi concentration camps.

The money will be delivered to the French government in three installments starting in April, 1961, and ending in April, 1963. The money will be distributed and apportioned by the French government.

Labor Split Over Choice Of Johnson

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some top labor union leaders say they are stunned and unhappy over the nomination of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson to be No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket. But they count on some early benefits.

Some other union officials welcomed the choice of the Senate majority leader for the vice presidential spot.

LABOR GOALS

Those looking for quick gains figure that with Johnson as the running mate of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the party's presidential nominee, the chances are good of pushing through some long-wanted labor goals when Congress reconvenes in August. As Senate majority leader, Johnson wields power over legislation.

Most, if not all, such goals are contained in the platform adopted here earlier by the Democrats.

The labor union chiefs attending the convention held a secret meeting Thursday night after the convention had ratified Kennedy's choice of Johnson.

REUTHER INFLUENCE

The group included George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union. Reuther is an influence in the big Michigan delegation which glumly refrained from any applause when Johnson was nominated.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said for the record he was "stunned and shocked" at the sudden selection of Johnson. But not all labor chiefs held that view.

President Rutherford B. Hayes, elected in 1877, served only one term at his own request.

Marinite's Resolution Gives Press Thanks At Convention

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kent Woodlands took the podium at the Democratic National Convention here yesterday to make and urge adoption of a resolution.

Mrs. Smith, the state's national committeewoman, told the convention that "the free press of our nation and the great radio and television industry have done a most remarkable job in enabling people everywhere to follow the procedures of the convention."

This is "a most significant contribution to maintaining the vigor of our democracy through an informed public," she went on.

Therefore, she proposed, the convention should "express its sincere appreciation to the management and working personnel of all media of public information for their full and extensive coverage."

The resolution was passed.

BRITAIN PRESSES FOR PLANE PACT

President, Macmillan Agree To Talk Over Plan To Avoid Incident-Provoking Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—British diplomats were quietly pressing today for tighter safeguards against possible incident-provoking flights by American military planes from English soil without Britain's knowledge.

The White House announced last night that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have agreed to talks now under way between British embassy and State Department officials.

Press secretary James C. Haggerty called the negotiations a review of the present working arrangements on American bases in Britain with a view to "any possible improvements in coordination."

Impetus for the talks comes from Macmillan, who has been under pressure at home to make sure U. S. planes do not zoom away on unusual flights from Britain without their hosts knowing about it.

The present U. S.-British understanding on bases was reached in 1951 between President Harry S. Truman and Prime Minister Clement Attlee. A joint statement by Truman and Winston Churchill, Attlee's successor, confirmed the deal the following year.

Since then aircraft have advanced a long way and East-West tensions have reached a new stage. The Soviets swung into a new cold war offensive after downing an American U-2 spy plane deep inside their territory. On July 1 they claimed to have shot down a British-based American RB-47 craft invading Soviet air-space. Washington said the plane was outside Soviet territory.

Kishi, Aides Resign From Cabinet Posts

TOKYO (UPI)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and his government resigned en masse today.

The cabinet resigned after the ruling Liberal-Democrat Party and the opposition Socialist and Democratic Socialist parties had agreed earlier tonight to elect a new prime minister at a special Diet (parliament) session beginning next Monday.

Pro-American Hayato Ikeda, who was elected yesterday as new president of the ruling party, is certain to be elected prime minister. This is assured because his party has a majority in the Diet.

Earlier today, the opposition Socialist Party boycotted the Diet and refused to take part in the election. It appeared that Kishi, hospitalized with six stab wounds inflicted by a rightwing fanatic yesterday, would remain in office.

But when Kishi's cabinet announced plans for calling the extraordinary session and then resigning, the Socialists agreed to end the boycott.

Deputy Prime Minister Hideji Masutani met with the cabinet in place of Kishi.

No Lover Of Parades

WINSOOK, Vt. (UPI)—Airman Raymond Larkin Jr. of Englewood, Calif., carefully locked his car and went to watch a National Guard parade. When Larkin returned to the auto, he found that a 26-ton tank had swung too wide on a corner and crushed it.

Conference Slated On Abolition Of Death Penalty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A state-wide conference looking toward abolition of capital punishment will be held in Los Angeles July 23-24.

Miss Rosalie Asher of Sacramento, one of Caryl Chessman's attorneys, announced the dates today and said 300 persons representing about 15 organizations will attend.

She said the conference will form a state-wide organization which will prepare legislation and outline strategy for ending the death penalty.

The two-day meeting will be at the University Methodist Church, Los Angeles.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Male Worth $200,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The average U.S. male can claim an economic value of $200,000, the Institute of Life Insurance said today.

The figure, representing his prospective lifetime income, has climbed from $133,000 since 1949. The institute computed both totals from government income data and survival rates.

The increase, the institute said, mainly reflects a persistent gain in longevity, rising educational levels and skills and the long-term increase in economic output.

Guatemala Relief

GUATEMALA (AP) — The United States is flying medical supplies and clothing here today for survivors of the fire in the Guatemala City mental asylum which took more than 200 lives.

Many of the 1,400 inmates, some classified as criminally insane, escaped during rescue operations yesterday, making it difficult to fix the exact death toll. About 60 survivors were burned.

Paraguay Turnover?

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine news agency Telpress reported today that President Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay is preparing to resign and take his family to Switzerland. The story said he already has booked airplane passage.

Polaris Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Polaris was fired successfully from an underground tube early today in the missile's final tuneup for key launchings from a nuclear submarine.

The Navy announced the missile achieved all objectives in scooting more than 1,000 miles down the Atlantic missile range. A major goal was to check the performance of the Polaris' sensitive interial guidance system.

Budget Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration may soon announce a fiscal 1960 budget surplus of from three-fourths of a billion to a billion dollars — far above the 200 million surplus forecast to Congress in January.

Near-fiscal figures for the fiscal year, ended last June 30, are due in the Treasury's operations statement for June which comes out about the middle of next week.

Informed sources speculated that the administration, perhaps President Eisenhower himself, might decide to announce the figures earlier.

Flag Burned

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Students burned a U.S. flag in an anti-American demonstration last night at Nicaragua's National University in Leon.

Profits Fall Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Corporation profits fell below expectations in the first six months of 1960, dimming prospects that the government will be able to pile up the 4.2 billion dollar budget surplus President Eisenhower forecast.

The Commerce Department reported last night that corporations earned profits before taxes at an annual rate of 48.8 billion dollars in January, February and March. This was 4 billion dollars more than in the last three months of 1959 but well below the 51.7 billion dollar record rate of April-May-June, 1959.

Missile Plant Vote

BURBANK (AP) — Workers at Lockheed's strikebound missile plants are voting on a modified company offer.

Tanker Spills Oil

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 575-foot Panamanian tanker struck a submerged object in the East River early today and spilled tons of crude oil into the water off the United Nations.

The 23,790-ton tanker Alkaid with 36 persons aboard including a woman was reported in no immediate danger of capsizing. Fire officials said there was no danger of fire since the oil would have to be heated to ignite. None of the persons aboard was reported injured.

Eichmann Suit

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The wife of Nazi Col. Adolf Eichmann yesterday filed criminal charges against unknown persons who kidnaped her husband here last May and took him to Israel to stand trial for war crimes.

Mrs. Veronika Liebel Eichmann, who has been in hiding since the abduction, was represented by an attorney in the petition.

Blast Rocks Base

FORT DEVANS, Mass. (UPI) — A propane gas explosion rocked this Army base today and two soldiers were burned fighting a fire which demolished a mess hall and two trucks.

A civilian tank truck was pumping cooking gas into a tank at 9:30 a.m. when a hose coupling came loose. The metal coupling hit cement pavement and the resulting sparks touched off the blast.

Ike Signs Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has approved multi-billion-dollar spending programs for roads and public works in signing the last of the bills Congress passed before it recessed for the political conventions.

The 65 bills Eisenhower signed yesterday called for more than 4.5 billion dollars in federal spending, including 2.1 billion dollars in federal aid for roads, 1.5 billion dollars for rivers and harbors projects and 150 million dollars to extend home loans for World War II veterans.

46 PER CENT

Prescription Products Boost Drug Store Sales

NEW YORK (UPI)—The bigger the American drug store gets the more pharmaceutical it gets, executives of Drug Topics and Drug Trade News said today.

"Many drugstores are as big as supermarkets today and carry 12,000 to 15,000 items—yet the proportion of their business that comes from prescriptions has gone up from 11 per cent in 1939 to just under 28 per cent last year," said Dr. Paul C. Olsen, marketing economist for the two magazines, which have just published one of the most exhaustive marketing analyses of the drug business in history.

The survey shows that the notion sometimes held that drugstores make their money from everything but drugs is wrong.

Prescriptions and other health aids accounted for 46.06 per cent of every dollar the country's 54,000 drug stores took in last year.

Supermarkets, discount stores and department stores have taken a lot of business in cosmetics, tobacco, sundries and even drugs away from drugstores in the last 20 years, but the drugstores aren't hurting in any of those fields. Their total sales hit a record 7.25 billion dollars last year. The average sales gain for all the 54,000 stores exceeded $10,000.

Cattle Thief Hits Ranch At Nicasio

A cattle thief shot a steer on the Fred LaFranchi Ranch at Nicasio Tuesday night, carved the two hind quarters and left the rest of the carcass lying in the pasture, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

LaFranchi found the steer about 100 feet inside the Highway 101 fence this morning. The white face steer, valued at $150, was shot between the eyes.

Society Shelters Exotic Animals

Dogs and cats aren't the only animals that found a shelter with the Marin Humane Society in the last year, secretary-manager Mel L. Morse told society directors at their annual meeting yesterday.

Among the 612 "other animals" that passed through the portals of the society's shelter in San Rafael were an exotic bird called an African Toucan, one Arctic loon which unaccountably strayed onto a Marin beach, 15 bats, 83 assorted wild birds, one monkey, two turkeys, one seal, 79 rats and 57 skunks.

There were still others, including 10 stray horses that were temporarily teathered at the county's Lucas Valley farm.

The Marin Humane Society is still looking for a new site for its shelter, where all animals can be handled, Morse said. Calls to the Humane Society are expected to increase as the county's population continues to increase.

More than 10,000 animals were sheltered during the 1959-60 fiscal year, Morse reported. Under the society's administration, 14,500 dogs were licensed in Marin County last fiscal year.

"There is a continuation of too many animal bites," Morse said. "Our staff handled over 1,800 such cases with subsequent quarantines requiring over 5,400 calls."

The society's staff responded 472 times when animals were injured, usually at night.

Twenty-two cases reported of cruelty to animals were corrected with the assistance of Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich and his staff, Morse said. None of the cases went to court, he said.

Morse reported that the Humane Society women's auxiliary had donated a new aluminum ladder to use in rescue work, and equipment for moving injured animals. Through the efforts of a newly organized Junior Auxiliary, outdoor runs have been covered with corrugated aluminum, to protect from heat in the summer and rain in the winter.

"The Marin County Cat Fanciers have made it possible for us to have some up-to-date fiberglass cat cages to better house cats which are strayed and awaiting return to their owners," Morse said.

He thanked Calo Food Co. and Puss-N-Boots division of Quaker Oats for free cat food, and George and Kathy Wheeler for their photographing of the society's work and its animals.

Morse said more should be done in educating children to treat animals humanely, a field in which the late Mrs. Muriel McCrum, a director of the society, was laying the groundwork.

DEMOS

Action the liberal appendage of the party. He has been criticized by Chairman Butler for ignoring the recommendations of the Democratic Advisory Council.

Gev. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, a preconvention supporter of Kennedy, said his delegation feels the nomination of Johnson was a mistake.

Robert R. Nathan, head of the District of Columbia delegation and an ADA leader, wanted to put up the name of Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota to oppose Johnson in a floor vote. But Freeman scotched that.

Only Johnson's name was placed in nomination, by Pennsylvania Gov. David L. Lawrence. A two-thirds voice vote was asked to suspend rules and make the nomination by acclamation without a formal vote. Although there was a substantial chorus of noes, Chairman LeRoy Collins declared Johnson nominated.

Already waiting outside the hall, Johnson then appeared to address the delegates and tell them what a "warm, good friend" he has been to Kennedy.

This was the man who has been suggesting at every available opportunity in the last few days that Kennedy is too young and too inexperienced to be president. This was the man who said he had gone out of his way to see that Kennedy, the neophyte, has a chance to learn politics at the foot of the master.

But all of that was forgotten.

When Johnson went to the convention podium, it was as the teacher acknowledging a pupil's achievement of a goal he himself had sought but might never attain.

Earlier, Kennedy had called his defeated rival and insisted that he would come to see him.

In Johnson's version, the two men, a little ill at ease, discussed legislation to be taken up at the Senate session reconvening Aug. 8.

Then Kennedy popped the question: Would Johnson run with him? The eventual answer, embellished with a lot of explanations, was yes.

So Johnson had his hour in the limelight before the convention. Mrs. Johnson, wearing a red dress and a corsage of yellow roses of Texas, stood proudly by as the senator told the Democrats they have a vigorous, progressive party that has "the will to win and the people to do it."

"As an American, as a Democrat, as warm, good friend, I am proud to stand beside and stand behind the next president of the United States, Jack Kennedy," Johnson said.

Liquor License Appeal Made

Edward J. Cleland of San Rafael, whose wife, Lorraine, owns the liquor license at the Redwood Room on Fourth Street, is appealing to the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control to have his name added to the liquor license.

Liquor officials previously denied his request on grounds he has a "police record" (which includes disturbing the peace and drunken driving), according to Brand Strup, official at the ABC office in San Francisco. Cleland is petitioning for a hearing by ABC. The hearing, originally set for this week in the county courthouse has been continued, possibly until next month.

WANTED FOR HOLDUP — A bandit who looks like the sketch above held up Milani's Lounge in San Rafael in broad daylight yesterday and vanished with $625 in cash. Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa released this composite sketch, by Sheriff's Deputy Edmund Mauberret, in hopes that someone may have seen the man near Third and B Streets about 10 a.m. yesterday. Mrs. Dahlia Milani Meagor, bar owner, said the bandit forced her into the cellar, then took the money from behind the bar. He pointed a blue steel automatic at her. The robber was about 40 years old, six feet tall, 160 to 180 pounds, and wore dark glasses and a straw peak hat.

Hub Tailor Asks $150,00 For Car Hurts

Peter A. Bambino, 75-year-old San Anselmo tailor, is seeking $150,000 damages for injuries suffered when a car hit him on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard last Dec. 23.

Bambino filed the suit today in Marin Superior Court against the driver of the car, Kathleen D. O'Leary, 21, of 29 Foss Avenue, San Anselmo, and several John Does.

Bambino says he suffered $100,000 general damages, $10,000 medical cost, and $40,000 loss in future earnings.

He was crossing Drake Boulevard at Madrone when hit by the eastbound O'Leary car. He suffered broken legs and other injuries. At the time of the accident, police said the road was wet with rain, and Bambino carried an umbrella.

Candidates Night Set In Marin City

A candidates night will be held Monday by the Marin City Tenants Council to allow candidates for the five upcoming council seat vacancies to discuss their platforms.

Nominating petitions are still available, Mrs. Gene Beard, secretary said, at the Housing Authority rental office. The deadline for filing is at 6 p.m. tomorrow. The election, a repeat of that held last month which was declared void, will be July 27.

Prior to the candidates speeches, the council will hold a town meeting, starting at 8 p.m. in the comunity center to discuss "have you any questions on redevelopment." This is designed, Mrs. Beard said, to aid people who have been shifted around in the Marin City.

Pistol Firing Results In Jail

Vertis Spigner, 36-year-old Marin City contractor, was jailed yesterday afternoon on suspicion he fired a pistol at the owner of the Pig Haven restaurant near Commodore Air Service in Sausalito.

Adam Jackson, 51, of San Francisco, who runs the restaurant, complained to the sheriff that Spigner had shot at him, and the bullet crashed through the window.

Sheriff's Deputy Charles Prandi and Sgt. Guy V. Gibbs said Spigner at first admitted firing the shot, but later denied doing so. Spigner told Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos he and Jackson got into an argument over money.

Officers confiscated a .22 caliber Derringer-type pistol with an over-and-under barrel.

Sunlight Problem

Mrs. Frank Faustine of San Rafael said today that the proposed carport to be built by the Robert Ardens of 617 Locust Road, Sausalito, would cut out all the sunlight to her two bedrooms, not to her two apartments as stated in yesterday's Independent-Journal. She said the carport would cut out kitchen light and light to the back yard.

Civic League Rips Service Station Plan

The Kentfield Civic League joined the College of Marin last night in opposing construction of a service station on College Avenue.

F. Bourne Hayne, chairman of the league's planning committee, appeared before the trustees to inform them his group was against issuing a use permit for the station and would so inform the Marin County Planning Commission when the matter comes before it for a second time on July 25.

The board agreed and voted unanimously to oppose the station proposed by Standard Oil Co. on the property of Dr. Ethel Righetti north of Stadium Lane.

"We feel the growth of the college and the development of our property along College Avenue will increase the traffic flow to such an extent that the addition of a service station would be a detriment as well as a hazard," said Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy.

Construction of the station was also opposed Monday before the planning commission by the Kentfield School District.

In other action last night, the trustees:

1. Approved employment of a part-time multi-lith operator at $2.50 per hour.
2. Approved correction of an error in classification of Margaret Bourst, instructor in business administration, which would increase Mrs. Bourst's salary by $200 a year.
3. Instructed President Ward H. Austin to draw up a detailed schedule of the duties to be performed next year by the president and his new administrative assistant, Dr. Stephen E. Epler.
4. Approved payment of warrants for the month of June in the amount of $4,367.90.

Attorney Gardiner Named To Fair Group

San Rafael attorney Samuel W. Gardiner, along with showman Walt Disney and 20 other Californians was named by Gov. Brown today to a citizens committee charged with producing the "finest state fair in the nation."

Gardiner a senior partner in the Gardiner, Riede, Elliott and Bagley law firm of San Rafael, will meet in Sacramento Monday with the committee.

Center Money

Kurt Heath of the Heath Land Co. in Mill Valley said today that the Allied Grocers and Heath proposed shopping center in the Marinship area would bring $90,000 in taxes to the city. It would bring $4,600 in taxes to the city in industrial development. The Independent-Journal said in error yesterday that the development would bring the developers $90,000 if a shopping center, and $4,600 if an industrial development.

Came To Stops

Martin Roy Huff of 49 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, driving the second car in a four-car chain collision on the Golden Gate Bridge Wednesday morning, was found by California Highway Patrol investigators to have come to a full stop behind the car ahead before striking the front car twice. Both impacts were caused by successive hits to the rear of Huff's car.

Former Marin Woman's Husband Dies In Mallorca

Rudolph Charles von Ripper Austrian count, artist and soldier of fortune, died Saturday on the Spanish island of Mallorca.

His widow is the former Evelyn Legge of Ross.

Reports from Madrid attributed death to a heart attack suffered in the island's port city of Pollensa, where the von Rippers resided.

Von Ripper distinguished himself in the U.S. Army's Office of Strategic Services during World War II. After the war, he visited San Francisco in connection with a showing of his paintings at the M. H. de Young Museum. During his stay he met Miss Legge, daughter of the late Dr. Charles Legge and Mrs. Herman Stein of Ross.

The two were married in April, 1948, while both were members of a scientific expedition cruising off the West Indies.

He was a son of the late Edward Maria von Ripper, a general in the imperial Austrian army, and Calire, Baroness von Salis-Samaden.

Von Ripper was jailed by the Nazis in 1933, but was released and fled Austria in 1934. He fought against Franco in Spain's civil war. Later he joined the French Foreign Legion in 1942, enlisted in the U.S. Army as a private, rising to captain.

Reports of his death said the von Rippers returned from a round-the-world trip last month and became involved in legal difficulties with the Spanish customs over a large amount of jewels von Ripper claimed were owned by his wife. The case is pending in a customs court.

James McClelland Services Held

Family funeral services were held today for James D. McClelland, 61, who died Wednesday after a six months' illness at his home, 5 Seafirth Place, Tiburon.

McClelland, a pharmacist, was owner of the M & M Pharmacy in San Francisco. He and his wife, Ruby, who survives, had lived in Marin County for seven years.

He is survived also by a son, Michael J. McClelland of Daly City; by two daughters, Mrs. Patricia M. Gannon of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Mrs. Maureen F. Irvine of Daly City, and by 11 grandchildren.

McClelland, a native of Northern Ireland, as a young man was a member of the Randalstown Masonic Lodge there. He had been a California resident for 32 years.

Family funeral services were held this afternoon at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma. Memorial contributions to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund are preferred by the family.

Elizabeth Hemsath Services Held

Private funeral services for Elizabeth J. Hemsath, sister of Mrs. Jewell H. McIntosh of 79 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, were held today at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Miss Hemsath died Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. She was 87.

She was born in Cloverdale, Sonoma County. In the 1930s Miss Hemsath came to live in San Rafael with her mother, the late Mrs. Frederica Hemsath. She and her mother resided in San Rafael for several years and subsequently moved to San Francisco, where Miss Hemsath lived until her death.

She is survived by her sister.

Burial was at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Antonio Tamburini Dies In Hospital

Antonio (Tony) Tamburini, 73, of Mill Valley died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital.

Tamburini had not been ill until he was taken to the hospital three weeks ago, where he died unexpectedly.

A machinist for 47 years for Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Tiburon, Tamburini made his home at 2 Hill Street. He came from Italy to Marin County in 1904, and had lived about 47 years in Mill Valley. He retired six years ago.

The machinist was a member of San Rafael Aerie 25, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marie Tamburini; a son, Joseph Tamburini, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Reeser, of Mill Valley; a brother, Enrico Tamburini of South San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. Angela Soldavini of San Rafael, and four grandchildren.

A requiem Low Mass will be celebrated for Tamburini at 9:30 a.m., Monday at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be said at 8 p.m., Sunday at the chapel of Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley.

$10,000 TO GO

Drake Statue Fund Hits One-Third Mark

A bronze statue of Sir Francis Drake to be installed on the shores of Drake's Bay was partially assured last night with the announcement that $5,000 of the $15,000 necessary for its purchase was already in the coffers of the Marin Visitors Bureau.

The $5,000 was donated by Robert D. Marshall, owner of Laguna Ranch on Drake's Bay, announced Mrs. Esther Dearth, bureau chairman.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-Marin) told the 40 representatives of Marin business and civic organizations at last night's "Dollars for Drake" dinner that he would initiate study of a four-lane freeway leading from Waldo Grade of Highway 101 through Tennessee Valley to West Marin.

Senator McCarthy said that boosting tourist trade was Marin's best hope for broadening its tax base. "We won't have basic industry for a long time, if ever," he said.

Benjamin Draper of Mill Valley, executive producer of the California Academy of Sciences' award winning television program "Science in Action," listed steps that Marin groups can take to exploit the tourist-attracting possibilities of Drake's landing in Marin the summer of 1579.

Draper's suggestions included:

1. A folder patterned after Florence Donnelly's Marin — Past and Present" but devoted exclusively to Drake's visit to California.

2. A series of signs along the route to Drake Bay. Because the route passes through almost every Marin community "it gives everyone a cut in it, so to speak," Draper said.

3. A scholarship for a PhD. candidate who could produce a book on Drake in California. Draper said archives in Paris and the Vatican including writings of spies to the Elizabethan court is a rich research source for Drake scholars not yet tapped.

4. An unveiling of Drake's statue with full television coverage. "This should include participation by appropriate British people, perhaps members of the Royal family, certainly representatives of the Friends of Buckland Abbey, the scholarly counterpart of our own Drake Navigators' Guild," Draper said.

5. A commission appointed by the governor, headed perhaps by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Draper also announced that the collection of Professor George Davidson, a student of Drake, is now available at the California Academy of Sciences' Mailliard Library for perusual by Drake scholars.

Ross Council Gives Raises To Employees

The Ross Town Council last night granted 4 per cent pay raises to the seven town employees retroactive to July 1.

Fire Chief J. J. Regoni and Fire Chief A. T. Henrich will receive $520 a month; Asst. Police Chief L. E. Flowers and Asst. Fire Chief Carl E. Olson, $416; Alfred Massara, street foreman, $437; Walter Riboli, street laborer, $406; Victor Koll, gardener, $18.75 a day.

A 1960-61 town budget will be adopted and a tax rate set at the Aug. 11 meeting, said Town Clerk W. W. Cole.

The councilmen decided to try to keep a concrete bulkhead project along Laurel Grove Avenue down to $2,500. Town Engineer John C. Oglesby, who drew plans for it, estimated it at about $2,000. Lowest of two informal bids was $2,700, submitted by Carcano and Velcich, Inc., of San Rafael.

College Board Raises Adult Education Pay

Teachers in the adult education program of College of Marin got a $1.25-an-hour raise in pay last night.

The college's board of trustees voted last night to increase the adult school teachers' pay from $4.25 per hours to $5.50. The action resulted from a recommendation by Dr. Stephen E. Epler, new administrative assistant to College President Ward H. Austin, during a visit to the campus last week.

"The increase brings the college in line with rates paid adult teachers throughout the rest of the state," said Mrs. Deedy.

Also, for the first time the college will employ an instructor of mentally retarded adults. The job was offered to Jean Lane at an annual salary of $5,720.

Miss Lane, a graduate of University of Missouri, has been a director of rest homes and organizer of recreation programs, her most recent job being with Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco. She was recommended for the position by Samuel N. LeCount, adult education director.

The class will be taught in San Rafael High School. Part of the expense of the facilities is being underwritten by the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children.

Also aproved by the trustees was the employment of Sandra Fox as part time secretary-typist at $2.50 an hour. Mrs. Fox has been employed by the college on a full-time basis and requested part-time employment instead.

Parking Meter Tokens

WADSWORTH, Ohio (AP)—As a good will gesture to stimulate business, merchants are giving their customers parking meter tokens. Meters here have two slots, one for pennies and nickels and the other for the tokens which provide 60 minutes of free parking. Merchants pay a nickel apiece for tokens.

Jury Selection Made In Retrial For Finch

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A jury of 11 women and one man was selected today for the murder retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, ending a three-week struggle in which more than 240 prospective jurors were called.

However, testimony will not start until Monday because four alternates still had to be selected.

The retrial began June 27 despite protests by defense attorney Grant Cooper that his client could not get a fair trial here. The first trial of the lovers ended with a hung jury.

Superior Court Judge Leroy Dawson, before recessing the trial until Monday, denied a motion by Cooper to shift the trial to another city. Dawson is presiding in the case over the objections of Miss Tregoff's attorneys, who lost their bid to disqualify him for prejudice.

Objections to the death penalty and prior knowledge and opinions on the guilt or innocence of the defendants were the biggest obstacles to seating a jury.

The last juror to be seated was Mrs. Elcy Oberdick of Beverly Hills. The defense used 24 of its challenges before the jury was picked, while the prosecution exhausted 25. Each side had 30.

Finch, 43, and Miss Tregoff, 23, were charged with the murder of Barbara Jean Finch, shot to death last July 18 at her West Covina home. The state charges Finch and his sweetheart plotted the killing.

Finch testified Mrs. Finch was killed when a gun discharged as he was attempting to throw it away.

Golf Links Tract Bids Opened

Vincent Maggiora and Son, Inc., of Sausalito was apparent low bidder among six whose bids on sewer lines for the Golf Links Tract were opened at last night's meeting of the board of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

The Maggiora bid was $55,944. The contract will be awarded in about 10 days.

Four-year terms of Jack Baken, president, and Floyd Hoveland on the board are expiring and it was announced that candidates may file from today for an election to be held Sept. 13.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

6:22 p.m., San Rafael — Small grass fire in parking lot west of 1108 Mission Avenue; cause undetermined; no damage.

6:30 p.m., Marin City — Fire in wood pile beside House 747 reportedly started by children; no damage.

7:05 p.m., Sausalito—Ambulance sent to Seven Seas at 682 Bridgeway Boulevard for man who had a seizure; ambulance not needed.

7:56 p.m., San Rafael — Truck belonging to Steward Gunite of Pleasant Hill, Contra Costa County, parked on incline with 40-gallon gasoline tank leaking; area washed down by San Rafael Fire Department.

Agents Close Publishing Firm In Hub

Internal Revenue agents yesterday padlocked the offices of the Northern California Publishing Co., Inc., at 10 Bank Street, San Anselmo, because the firm failed to pay withholding and social security taxes withheld from its employees' earnings, an Internal Revenue spokesman said.

The seizure action was taken to collect $3,955.45 in tax liabilities. A $2,716.40 lien was filed against the firm May 4 and a $1,239.05 lien on June 13.

The company, headed by Roger Esteves as editor and publisher, publishes the weekly Ross Valley Times, Tiburon Peninsula Pelican and Larkspur-Corte Madera Times.

Esteves said he expected to raise enough money today to pay the liabilities so that the padlock would be removed.

The Internal Revenue spokesman said the company was in arrears in payment of withholding and social security taxes and failed to make monthly deposits of funds withheld, as required by law.

Thieves Take Three Wheels Off Auto

Margaret Parkins of 815 Fourth Street, San Rafael, returned to the San Rafael municipal parking lot at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue to pick up her car and found three wheels gone.

She told police she parked her 1938 convertible either Friday or Saturday last week. Wednesday, she found the car sitting on one tire—the left rear. Wooden blocks were under the other three axles.

Enlists In Navy

Robert Francis Walker, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Walker of 143 Spring Grove Avenue, San Rafael, enlisted in the Navy yesterday at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Office, 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for a four-year tour of duty. He was sent to the San Diego Training Center for nine weeks of recruit training.

4 Tied For Lead In Western Open

DETROIT (AP) — Three veterans who have had some long gulps from professional golf's big-money fountain and a freckled rookie trying for his first sip shared the lead as the $25,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered the second round today.

Redhead Butch Baird, a game little Texan trying to strike it rich on the bigtime circuit, barged into first round leadership with veterans Bob Rosburg, Jack Burke and Fred Hawkins.

Each fired a three-under-par 69 yesterday as the massive field of 158 went almost from daylight to dark in first day action.

That was good for a one-stroke lead over 10 other players. A total of 32 bettered par 36-37—72 at Western Golf and Country Club's 6,800-yard test.

STORY OF MIXED MARRIAGE—Sonya Wilde and James Franciscus are starred in "I Passed for White," a story of mixed marriage, opening Sunday at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

Here's What's Doing At Marin Theaters

By LES DARD

Capsule summaries of the weekend films:

RAFAEL THEATER

"Home From the Hill" (color, Cinema-Scope), opening Sunday at the San Rafael screen, is a pretty rugged mixture of illicit passion and family decline. On one level, it's sort of a "Peyton Place," Texas style.

Story concerns the Hunnicutt family:

Robert Mitchum, an aging despot who always has been a shameless philanderer; Eleanor Parker, his long suffering wife whose coldness drives her mate into the arms of other women; George Hamilton, their sissified son, whom the father teaches to chase two-footed game (specifically, Luana Patten); George Peppard, the mysterious chief hand on the ranch.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"I Passed for White" tells a tale of a mixed marriage.

This film, which opens Sunday on the Hub screen, stars Sonya Wilde as a light-skinned Negro beauty who runs away from her family. In New York, she meets a wealthy white graduate (James Franciscus) of Cornell.

She lies about her ancestry and winds up marrying him. But because she was afraid to tell the truth in the first place, she winds up creating an ever-widening web of lies.

NOVATO THEATER

Visualize Tony Curtis as an assistant professor. He is busy kissing a pretty student. Enter Janet Leigh, his wife, into his chemistry lab. She blows up, natch.

Determined to save his marriage, Tony asks his pal, TV scripter Dean Martin, for an alibi. The result: Tony poses as an undercover FBI agent and that kiss was in line of duty.

This comic invention is the kickoff for some antics titled "Who Was That Lady?" which result in the re-establishment of happy relations in the Curtis-Leigh apartment.

This film opens Sunday.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Story of Ruth" (color, CinemaScope) is based on what has been called the greatest mother-in-law story in history. It opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

Elana Eden, a Hollywood newcomer, plays Ruth, the Moabite priestess who renounces her graven gods to follow her mother-in-law (Peggy Wood) to Israel ("Whither thou goest . . . ") after her husband is killed.

Estimate: B plus film.

MARIN THEATER

"Bells Are Ringing," starring Judy Holliday, is one of the best film musicals so far this year.

In CinemaScope and color, it is now on the Sausalito screen.

Judy plays a switchboard girl in a phone answering service who's always soothing the subscribers, among them a playboy playwright (Dean Martin).

Fred Clark and Eddie Foy Jr. are also in this show, but they are thoroughly overshadowed by Miss Holliday.

LARK THEATER

"Black Orpheus" (color), winner of the Oscar as best foreign film of the year, has been held over at the Larkspur theater.

Handsome Orpheus (Breno Mello) meets his Eurydice (Marpessa Dawn), a beautiful new girl in town, and they are immediately wafted into love beyond earthly control.

She is pursued by a strange admirer garbed as Death. Orpheus tries to save her during a nightmare chase through maddened carnival throngs.

What happens to them makes for an unusual film, marked by unusual music.

MOTOR MOVIES

Returning is "Anatomy of a Murder" a straight-talk film. And if it emphasizes anatomy more than murder, it's still also one of the most engrossing courtroom dramas in many a year.

"Anatomy" tells of an Army officer (Ben Gazzara) who kills a man while "blacked out." He charges that the victim assaulted his wife (Lee Remick).

The suspense springs entirely from speculation on whether the defense attorney (James Stewart) can get him off.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

The playbox continues its policy of bringing back popular favorites (on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays only). This week, the co-features are:

"Bus Stop," one of the best films ever done by Marilyn Monroe.

"Diary of Anne Frank," the classic tale of the little Dutch girl who grew to maturity while hiding from the Nazis

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Never So Few" Cinema-Scope, color) is another war story, with a dash of romance.

It co-stars Frank Sinatra as a U. S. captain in the remote Burma jungle and Gina Lollobrigida as the beauty who finds him irresistible.

This film tells of a small band of men—largely Kachin natives—led by Britons and Yanks who battle Japanese invaders during World War II.

ADMIRAL HALSEY'S STORY — James Cagney stars as Adm. William Halsey in "The Gallant Hours," a film biography of the famous World War II naval commander opening next Wednesday at the Novato Theater.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Melodrama Opens At Wye Club; How To Get To Wilshire Towers

Melodrama came to Marin County again Tuesday when the Comstock Players from Virginia City opened the tearjerker, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," at the Wye Club in San Rafael for a four-week run. Follow-up to this immortal beer-sobbing epic will be a travesty on the same—"Ten Bar Rooms in a Night" for another double fortnight. The group will go on with "The Drunkard" and other oldtimers if interest keeps up.

There are two shows nightly, at 9:45 and midnight, Tuesdays through Saturdays. Doug Pusker, banjo player from Gold Street in San Francisco, is an added attraction.

THE WILTSHIRE TOWERS, which was never hard to find as a motel, should be no more difficult to locate now that it's part restaurant. In spite of the fact that it's on a double highway without cross-over privileges, there's a way to get there.

Going north, if you remember to turn at San Pedro Road and take the underpass to the other side into Merrydale you're practically in the back yard. Go one block to Willow and swing back to 101—that's it. Don't go looking for it around Terra Linda: you've missed the turnoff and have to start over.

Restaurant staff here is now well balanced. Claude Booth is the chef and has two good men, Ralph Bell and Bill Manning, to take over when he can't be there. At the tables you'll find cute Emma Watkins, and behind the bar Shaun Wiltshire himself—who's kind of cute, too, from the feminine perspective.

Sirloin steak for two, served on a board—$5.80—is a good item, or if you're not a steak man I'd suggest the chicken Kiev, a specialty of Claude's. There are lots of other selections.

It's an ideal place to stop for food and drink on the way home from some place up north, for then you only have to wheel off the highway, and back on it again when you're ready to go.

LAST I HEARD from the Ranch Wagon, Max Horowitz had a few good seats remaining for tonight's Giants game with the Dodgers. If you spot this in time to go you might give him a ring and see what's left.

New head bartender at the Ranch Wagon is Charlie Massie, formerly of the Blue Rock.

THE MACANTAC SE-FOOD, a seafood restaurant and retail store, is opening tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at 508 Third Street, across from United Market. Hours are 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. seven days a week.

Meals of seafood salads, crab ravioli, crab meatballs and other marine delicacies are served, and across the counter you can get take-home specialties. Owner Serge Cincotta knows fishfood from way back—he was formerly with Tom Lazio in San Francisco.

A comparatively small place, but it's the first restaurant up this way specializing in sea dishes. It should do well.

VI LOOBY will open her Casa Linda fonda at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Pastori Avenue, Fairfax tomorrow night.

Aside from the same Mexican dishes and salads which Vi served when she had the Manana, she'll feature dinners of roast beef and whole barbecued chicken. Open 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for lunch, and from 5 p.m. to 3 a.m. for dinner and late snacks. Saturday and Sunday hours are from 4 p.m.—closed Wednesdays.

The Casa Linda will operate in conjunction with the Club Drake now owned by Bob Joy and Wayne Jorgensen. Featured here is the three-piece entertainment group of Johnny Allair at the piano, Pete Lind Jr. on the drums (Pete's dad is the one at Pete's Pier 15) and Doug Cox, guitarist.

Vi's dining room is small but neatly laid out—seats about 21. You can get food to take home, too.

Marin Scouts Leave Monday For Jamboree

Seventy-seven Marin Scouts and Explorers leave Monday to join 55,000 other Boy Scouts at Colorado Springs, Colo., for the fifth National Jamboree from July 22 to 28.

The boys will encamp on a 2,000-acre ranch within sight of Pikes Peak and practically next door to the new Air Force Academy. The temporary city will be the third largest in Colorado during its brief existence.

A local committee of scouters headed by Harry Cooper of Mill Valley has worked out details to make the 1960 Jamboree a "once in a lifetime experience" for each boy, said Storrs H. Smith of the Marin Boy Scout Council.

TROOP MEMBERS

Representing Marin will be:

Jim Strachan and George Peeples of Troop 10; Larry Luchetti, Scott Henderson, Ken Jacobs and Brian Wells of Troop 18; Robert Lesoine, Gordon Linden, Edward Buckley, David Blaine, Robert Smith, Lonnie Smith and Dennis Ross of Troop 29; Kenneth Witzel of Troop 36; Gerald Dixon, Mike McLennan, David Hellman, John McKinnon, Paul Weese, Robert Magladry, Dirck Brinckerhoff, Fred Tegeler, Lee Wagner and Jock Speh of Troop 55; Larry Walsh of Troop 57; Ernest Lewin of Troop 64; Gregory Hobbs, Edmund Hobbs, Ken Fowler, Bill Andrewsen, Robin Bartlett and Tom Strathairn of Troop 67, all from San Rafael.

Herbert A. Turk of Troop 27 from Hamilton Air Force Base; Ralph Korstad of Troop 42, George Van Dyke, Kendall Beade and Kenneth Smith of Troop 56, all from Novato.

Robert Schultz, Stephen Schultz, Dana Luce and Steve Richards of Troop 15; Jim Walsh, Tom Lilienthal, Steve McCarty, Gregg Elberg and Robert Brogioli of Troop 70; Bruce Ketron and Russ Ketron of Post 50, all from San Anselmo.

FAIRFAX, KENTFIELD

Harlan Schoff of Troop 7 from Fairfax; John MacKay and Tom Atwood of Troop 11, James Irey, Larry Dwyer and Jeff Hardy of Troop 46, James Atwood of Post 11, all from Kentfield; Bill Grace and John d'Alessio of Troop 17, Dirk Noyes, Peter Noyes, Steve Dorinson and Bill Holiday of Troop 47, all from Ross; Ty Patterson and Randy Patterson of Troop 59 from Greenbrae.

Richard Gilardi of Troop 43 from Corte Madera; Jim Jett, Bruce Forbes, Perry Mayrisch and Preston Burris of Troop 1, Bill Bowen of Troop 54, Roger Drexler and Harry Herr of Post 34, all from Mill Valley; Jan Keizer, James Muldoon and John Slattery of Troop 8 from Sausalito; Jeff Teather and Rex Noah of Troop 9 from Belvedere-Tiburon.

The Marin group will join contingents from Oakland, Piedmont, Alameda and Chico to form a Jamboree special train on the Western Pacific Railroad, which leaves Oakland at 9 a.m. Monday. The group will return July 31 at 8:15 a.m.

The Marin Scouts have been organized into two troops. Jack Blaine of San Rafael will lead Troop 51 with Joseph Smith Jr. of Kentfield and Dick Morgan of San Anselmo serving as assistant scoutmasters. Dr. B. William Magladry is scoutmaster of Jamboree Troop 50 with Harvey Teague of Novato and Peter Krug Jr. of Larkspur as assistant scoutmasters.

Jerry Fullerton of San Anfael, Howard Lisle of Tiburon, and Fred Gardner of Novato will work on a commissary staff. Roy A. Ibach of Mill Valley will serve on the regional reception committee and Storrs H. Smith will work on the national public relations staff at general headquarters.

By RANDALL GOULD

As many as six California counties may receive Sacramento orders to make across-the-board increases of all assessments next September.

But Marin, from all indications, won't be among them.

Much - criticized Assessor Bert W. Broemmel gave his suffering fellow - Marinites this ray of hope to lighten their gloom over his scheme of "quadrennial inventory on the installment plan", as he termed it. This consists of re-appraising about one-quarter of the county each year —and starting where it will hurt worst.

Ronald B. Welch, assistant executive secretary to the California Board of Equalization, said in Sacramento he'd be "pleasantly surprised" if no counties had to be ordered to boost over-all assessments. He forecast that as many as six might get such orders.

But it was Welch who came to San Rafael in late May and twice went on record as backing Broemmel's plan — which, he said before the Marin Board of Supervisors at a special May 21 meeting, "is common practice . . . the practice that we prefer in the Board of Equalization."

Welch said at that same meeting that if there were failure to put South Marin's rapidly rising property values on the rolls at market level "it would probably result in an order for the board to raise the whole county."

"Next year, if there were failure," he added ominously, "I think there is no question but that an order would be issued."

Welch expressed similar sentiments in a radio panel discussion the following Wednesday, all of which Broemmel now cites as reasonable assurance that his progressive reappraisal has put Marin in the clear.

"The question is whether by reappraising the areas of fastest rise in values, we've come within the 10 per cent tolerance level of the Board of Equalization as established by its samplings around the whole county," said Broemmel by way of caution.

Asked whether an across-the-board order would be on a basis of past values, or equally affecting the new higher valuations in South Marin, Broemmel said the latter would be the case.

But he believes his course will prevent anything of the sort from happening.

The Board of Equalization will notify assessors by next Monday of the ratio of property assessments in their counties to actual market values. Broemmel has been operating on a basis of 23 per cent handed on by his predecessor, but he says that could be changed.

Not until Sept. 2 will the public be told the ratios for the various counties, some of which run as high as 80 per cent, according to Broemmel. The statewide average will also be given.

This is the first time such ratios have been made public and in the past they were carefully guarded secrets. It will happen, an equalization board spokesman said, because this is the first year of operation under a 1959 law which took effect July 1 and which provides for more disclosure of how the various counties are assessing their property.

This law was passed by the legislature and signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown over objections of nearly all the assessors in the state.

Ir ratios of any counties appear considerably under average, according to Capitol News Service, the assessors involved will have until Sept. 25 to present arguments. Then on Sept. 25 if any counties are found below "tolerance level" the board will order all assessments in such counties brought up within the tolerance range.

According to the Welch explanation, no county will be ordered to boost its assessments until after the county has set its tax rate—a measure preventing counties from changing tax rates to fit new higher assessments.

On Oct. 1 the assessment ratios as finally approved by the board will be sent to the Department of Education. School districts in counties where property is assessed below state average will get less school apportionment money from the state, while those in counties assessing above state average will receive proportionately more.

Welch said counties likely to fall below tolerance level are those where rapid growth has taken place and where assessors' staffs have been insufficient to keep assessment up to par— a situation pleaded by Broemmel as reason for his partial assessment policy in fast-growing Marin.

LLOYD ANDREWS HAMILTON
Place in museum

War I Flier's Mementos To Go To Museum

A photograph of Lt. Lloyd Andrews Hamilton, in high collared World War I uniform, and his medals and orders are being sent from the base named after him to the Air Force Museum.

Mementos of the days when wars were more personal have been kept at the 78th Air Base Group headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Hamilton was killed in action Aug. 24, 1918. He was 24.

HIGH AWARDS

He won the Distinguished Service Cross and the British Distinguished Flying Cross for an earlier action. The medals, photos, orders and letters will go to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio.

The medals came after Hamilton flew 30 miles behind enemy lines in Belgium to bomb an airfield. He destroyed hangars and strafed a chateau where German pilots were quartered, making four passes as low as 20 feet, through enemy machine gun fire.

Hamilton was reportedly the first American officer to fly with the Royal Flying Corps. He was the first in his squadron to down an enemy aircraft.

BATTLE REPORTS

Battle reports which will go to the museum chronicle dogfights such as the one in which Hamilton and another pilot jumped eight Fokkers over France, chasing them from 16,000 to 100 feet, with Hamilton downing one.

He had 12 enemy planes and seven observation balloons to his credit.

Among the relics is a booklet noting that Hamilton had completed his six weeks of pilot training in England, including two and one-half hours of solo work. His instructor called him "good—very keen, works hard."

Fellow officers tells of Hamilton's death:

"Lt. Hamilton, one of the most fearless and expert pilots we ever had, was shot down from the ground just as he was zooming away from the 'sausage' (balloon) he had set on fire . . ."

School Board At Tomales Passes Budget

Tomales Joint Union High School District trustees last night adopted a $184,915.56 budget for 1960-61 that will require a general purpose tax rate of $1.25 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Voters last February approved a 50-cent increase over the 75-cent statutory maximum then in effect. Override taxes for special purposes will total about five and one-half or six cents, Supt. Anthony Matulich reported.

FOR RESERVE

The budget is $22,687.56 more than last year's total of $162,228. Most of the increase went to establish a reserve, Matulich said. The district did not have any significant reserve last year.

The increase also includes funds for higher costs of operation and for installation of a fire alarm system.

The board has moved its Aug. meeting to Aug. 4 and will hold a public hearing on the budget on that date.

Trustees decided to switch from a six to seven-period day in September to provide a broader curriculum. The district had a seven-period day until four or five years ago.

The change will not lengthen the school day, but will mean shorter periods, Matulich explained.

TO ADD COURSES

The district plans to add French, geography and another biological science to the course offerings. Some of the classes are large enough so that more sections can be added.

The board decided to oppose boundary changes involving elementary districts within the high school district that would result in a loss of some of the high school district area.

The county committee studying reorganization in Sonoma County has received petitions involving annexation of one or two of the Tomales elementary districts into the Analy High School District in Sebastopol.

The board felt that the district was small enough now so that loss of any portion would be to its disadvantage, Matulich said.

Mrs. Doris Burbank was appointed to the position of account clerk in the district.

At a recent organizational meeting, John Mattos was elected board chairman; Emil Valena, vice-chairman; Louis Zanardi, clerk, and Ralph Cheda, trustee representative.

Woman Found Slain Inside Locked House

WEST COVINA (AP) — A woman was found slain yesterday night—inside a locked house.

The slashed, nearly nude body was identified by police as that of Mrs. Betty Mann, 51, of Baldwin Park. She was lying on the kitchen floor.

The mystery slaying was discovered at the home of Carl W. Hause, West Covina. Mrs. Mann had been residing there, employed to take care of a pet dog and cat, while the Hause family was on vacation.

Concert To Benefit Marin Peace Center

A benefit folk music concert will be presented tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Carpeters Hall in San Rafael on behalf of the Marin Peace Center.

Guitarist Glen Carlson and banjo player Chris Bratt will be featured at the program, the proceeds of which will be used to "further peace education in Marin County," said chairman Phillip Drath.

PROTEST DEADLINE TODAY

Equalization Hearings Continued A Week

Equalization hearings on appeals from county assessments will continue through next Thursday, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday.

But 5 p.m. today is the deadline for filing applications for hearings. The time for applying began at 9 a.m. July 5 and appeal hearings started at 9 a.m. the following day.

Today's schedule provided for hearing a total of 25 appeals including one continuance. With 194 appeals filed up to last night, the board had heard 97 and 15 are pending for further hearing after review to check up on any new contentions by property owners.

Hearings were originally scheduled to end Monday afternoon but the board wished to give ample time for reviews.

Board members and Assessor Bert W. Broemmel were agreed that the new policy of the assessor's office, instituted last year but not put into full effect at that time, had greatly reduced the load during this year's equalization proceedings which apparently will include only two-thirds the number last year.

The plan started with regional meetings by the assessor's staff, which thus cleared up a considerable number of complaints which never had to go before the equalization board. Reviews have been made in advance this year on all appeals before they got to the board, and in case of inability to come to reasonably prompt agreement the cases are being continued and another review is conducted.

Cuba Paper Lashes U.S. Navy Firing

HAVANA (UPI) — The Castro-controlled newspaper Revolucion charged today that three U.S. warships, presumably from the Guantanamo naval base, violated Cuban territorial waters yesterday by firing guns within two miles of Cuban shore.

The semi-official newspaper did not describe the types of warships or guns but termed the alleged firing "an insolent challenge to our sovereignty."

The report coincided with the scheduled arrival today of a high-level Red Chinese trade mission expected to do business with the Fidel Castro regime and possibly pave the way for Cuba's diplomatic recognition of Peiping.

Revolucion said that the warships were on maneuvers and engaged in artillery practice.

The newspaper said a Cuban army air force helicopter spotted the ships at 11:40 a.m. yesterday sailing in formation from the east and that "therefore, they supposedly came from the base of Caimaner (Guantanamo)."

The report said that the first of the warships came within two to two and one half miles of the beach near Sigua, about halfway between Santiago and Guantanamo, where an army post is located. Guantanamo, site of the U.S. naval base, is approximately 40 miles east of Santiago.

Arraignment Of Financier Set July 22

Arraignment of Belvedere financier Stewart B. Hopps on charges of using the mails to defraud was set today tentatively for July 22, Associated Press reported from Baltimore.

The 59-year-old Hopps is free on $10,000 bail on two indictments returned against him Tuesday by a federal grand jury in Baltimore.

The government charges he was manager of the International Guaranty and Insurance Co. of Tangier, Morocco, which filed brochures listing its assets with the Maryland insurance commissioner and Better Business Bureau of Baltimore.

The Justice Department claims more than one million dollars worth of listed assets were worthless.

Hopps denied in a statement issued in San Francisco that he was ever manager for the company. He said he was "merely a paid technical adviser."

New Offices From Which To Lament Failure Of Voters

First things first.

That's what most of us are taught from childhood.

There's nothing particularly new, modern or recent about this idea.

We recall that the psalmists, writing a couple of thousand years before Christ, referred to the necessity for doing things in their proper order.

We can say, then, that humans have recognized "first things first" as a good rule and guide for human behavior for at least as long as history has been recorded.

But when people get into public affairs they seem somehow to get it turned around.

The relief of human suffering and proper concern for the welfare of our youth ought to be among the first concerns of government.

Here in Marin County our juvenile hall is inadequate. The evidence on this point is voluminous and conclusive; we'll not review it here. Suffice it to say, the two classes of juveniles of which the county has custody — offenders and those from broken homes — are not properly cared for.

It is true that our county officials twice have brought forth plans for alleviating the situation. Once a bond issue failed to receive the necessary two-thirds favorable vote. Now the matter is stalled because veterans organizations have not approved loan of memorial funds.

But that's not the whole story.

When voters turned down a bond issue to finance new county administrative offices, officialdom found a way to boost taxes, accumulate funds and proceed with a rather costly and lavish government center project, paying an architect 25 per cent more than the standard fee, even.

So county officials are on the way to having fine new offices in which to make themselves comfortable while lamenting the failure of voters to provide funds for improving juvenile detention facilities.

Same thing is true with regard to our so-called county hospital and farm, which is the present day description of what used to be called the poor farm. Our county officials will have new offices in which to sit and lament the fate of the old folks in the condemned buildings, because two bond issues have failed.

This state of affairs is not unique with Marin County.

Up in Sacramento, you can sit in the luxurious halls of the air conditioned capitol, while listening to reports of the tragic and pitiful inadequacy of such things as our state mental institutions.

We have no inclination to point the finger or shake the fist at specific individuals today. In the final analysis, we probably all are a little bit to blame for permitting it to get this way.

Best we can do now is to kick up a fuss next time one of these first-things-last choices is being made.

THE POWER OF THE TONGUE

"An unbridled tongue is the worst of diseases," said Euripides, the Greek dramatist, 400 years before Christ.

On the other hand, as an old Hindu proverb points out: "The tongue is the noblest of all the organs of the body."

When God blesses us with the power of speech, He leaves it entirely to each of us to employ it as we will. But our fate for time and eternity depends on how each of us puts the tongue to use.

St. James, one of the 12 Apostles, drew attention to the contradictory ways in which the tongue may be utilized. He wrote:

"With it we bless God the Father; and with it we curse men, who have been made after the likeness of God. Out of the same mouth proceed blessing and cursing."

(James 3:9-10)

Strive to use your tongue as an instrument through which you can communicate to others your noblest thoughts and you will have little trouble in preventing its abuse. You will truly appreciate the full meaning of freedom of speech if you do.

Thanks, O Father, for the blessing of speech. May I always use it for Your glory and the good of others.

Here's Balm For Pipe Smokers— You're A Noble Institution

(Hugh Mulligan, said the other day it was high time some high-minded crusader took out after pipe smokers. Mulligan, assuming the crusader's role, did so. Now George Cornell, a pipe smoker, takes off after Mulligan.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — All red-blooded citizens will rise to protest the attack that has been made on that noble comforter, the pipe.

It is an American institution. It is a source of calm, beneficence and peace. It is a well of inspiration and a thing of beauty.

Those who know the finer joys of tobacco are the pipe smokers.

The pipe is a steady companion and friend, a faithful counsellor.

Let it be said, at the outset, that the pipe is an ancient bulwark of culture; the cigar and cigarette relatively modern upstarts.

It imparts a temperate outlook in the spirit of its user—an awareness that the blessings of life should not be abused, that they deserve respect and concern.

It is thus that the pipe instills trust, encourages contemplation and a reflective, balanced view of life. It is the handmaiden of thought and creativity. It has enlarged the mind of man.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh sang the glories of the pipe to the courts of Europe, it has given inspiration and solace to poets, philosophers, statesmen, dramatists and historians.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT its scent are absurd. The air of any room is fallow and without life until it has been sweetened by the fragrance of some delicate pipe mixture.

A SUPPLY OF good, old briars, with the incense wafting through the halls, would probably do more for restaint and patience in world diplomacy than any other contribution.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Medics Interested In Public Health

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

There has recently been considerable commentary and unfortunately, as much confusion, in this community regarding the activities and role of the Marin County Medical Society in the promotion of health education.

Much of the confusion arose from a meeting called by the Marin Pure Water Committee, June 27, in which certain individuals misinterpreted the remarks of the official Medical Society representative, and went so far as to question whether or not he actually was the representative of the society.

To correct this misunderstanding, it should be made clear that the Marin County Medical Society would certainly favor a well-considered program of health education in our community. The representative of the Medical Society at the June 27 meeting expressed this attitude to the chairman at the conclusion of the evening.

Unfortunately, a last-minute emergency prevented him from attending the entire meeting. His views, however, on the subject of fluoridation, did reflect the opinion of the vast majority of the members of our society, and his appraisal of the possible dangers of fluoride tablets taken on a voluntary basis, was a realistic one, and would be so considered by most phyicians and dentists.

No groups have been more active in promoting education in matters pertaining to the general and oral health of our nation than have physicians and dentists. The activities of the American Dental Associatiton and the American Medical Association have extended over a period of more than 40 years and their efforts are continuing.

The Marin County Medical Society does not expect the Marin Pure Water Committee to alter its stand in opposition to fluoridation, and our representative did not wish to convey that idea at the meeting. The Medical Society recognizes that the committee's position is honestly and sincerely held, and as such, should be respected.

It is equally certain, I am sure, that the Marin Pure Water Committee does not expect the Marin County Medical Society to retreat from its position that fluoridation of the public water supply is the safest and most practical method of reducing dental caries among children.

Our stand was not made in haste, but after examination of the many aspectcs of the problem and represents the viewpoint of all but a few of our physician members.

We are not alone in this opinion. Our position coincides with the feelings of the great numbers of physicians, dentists, public health officials and scientists, who through the practice of their professions come in direct contact with the health needs of the public and who through training and experience are well qualified to voice an opinion on the subject.

Any successful program involving the development of a general and oral health educational program must take their opinion into consideration.

I wish to emphasize that the Marin County Medical Society has always willingly participated in every program which it believed would improve the health of the community, and will continue to do so in the future.

Sincerely yours,

DALLAS M. WAGNER, M.D.
President, Marin County
Medical Society.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

It Was Power, Personality Of Kennedy—Not Rigging—That Won

LOS ANGELES—The story behind this one-track Democratic convention is the story of the power and personality of John F. Kennedy.

SENATOR KENNEDY won the Presidential nomination:

Because he fought for it in the primaries while all his principal opponents — Johnson, Stevenson, and Symington—held back.

Because he has shown a magnetic, personal, public appeal, which is ingratiating and persuasive and which has won him wide grass-roots support; this has been demonstrated repeatedly in surveys of voter opinion and in polls of all echelons of Democratic organization leaders.

Because his campaign team of young professionals applied as hard-hitting and rough power-politics to the old-line professionals as they would have used against him—if he hadn't hit first.

Because he went over the heads of all the favorite-son Democratic Governors — Pat Brown of California, Mike Di Salle of Ohio, and Bob Meyner of New Jersey—and began winning to himself large segments of their state delegations. This is why Governor Di Salle gave up early. This is why Governor Brown ultimately stepped back from even having his name offered to the convention as a favorite-son candidate. He couldn't hold his own delegation in line in face of the Kennedy appeal. He himself did not want to risk supporting the winning candidate too late for his own political good.

THESE FORCES and factors could well have been enough to guarantee Kennedy his present two-handed grip on the nomination. But he has also had an unearned dividend, an accident of history, which has worked powerfully for him. His own personal and political strength has been matched by the electable weaknesses of all the Democratic alternatives.

The Northern Democrats were simply unable to believe that Lyndon Johnson, a Southerner, could possibly carry the industrial and Negro vote. Adlai Stevenson seemed to many to be a tried, reluctant dragon unlikely to put up a good fight; Senator Symington has never had first-line support and Senator Humphrey's candidacy never got off the ground.

I emphasize that Senator Kennedy is a strong candidate and so proved himself in the pre-convention campaigning. But it is also true that his strength may seem greater than it is because it was pitted against Democratic alternatives, none of whom, as most of the party leaders thought, could win the election.

STEVENSON NEVER really gave his supporters a chance. He would never openly declare; he tended to refuse, he would accept—if.

By the time the convention opened, Senator Symington had begun to campaign for the Vice Presidential nomination. That was the measure of his strength here in Los Angeles.

THIS WAS NOT a rigged convention in any fair meaning the term. Mr. Truman did himself no credit by wildly throwing this accusation in the air and bowing out. Mr. Truman is obviously staying away from Los Angeles, not because he really believes the convention was rigged (how he wished it were similarly "rigged" for Symington or Johnson!) but because he saw there was nothing he could do to alter the outcome.

We all know that the Kennedy team has done some clipping, some arm-twisting, and that when the political infighting has been rough, there has been no referee to call "double fault" on the server. But these are not unusual tactics. They are neither better nor worse than at many other conventions.

The convention is that Senator Kennedy won the nomination with no burdensome obligations to party leaders and without any need to sell the Vice Presidential nomination for delegates—as Franklin Roosevelt did to Garner in 1932.

Safety Requirements Do Much To Reduce Sports Car Race Hazards

TWO VIOLENT DEATHS at two nearby sports car road races within the past couple of month makes one wonder why the sport has such wide attraction and why more drivers take up the activity every year.

Frankly, I can't go along with those who, probably never having attended a race in their lives, shake their heads in holier-than-thou fashion and opine that the sport should be banned from civilized society.

I am the first to admit I am prejudiced in the opposite direction.

If I (1) had the money, (2) had the time, and, (3) my wife would allow me, I would put in a call to Rod Carveth in San Carlos, order a Lotus VII and be off and running with the boys and girls every time a race was scheduled.

Death—and especially death that appears unnecessary—is a rough thing to face. Sam Weiss' tragic end recently at Laguna Seca and Dice Bailey's death Eunday at Vaca Valley most certainly left a share of emptiness in many lives.

ON THE POSITIVE side of the sports car race picture, however, is the successful efforts of the Sports Car Club of America to keep the sport from the brink of death and from reaching the proportions of mayhem it has achieved in Europe.

There, without closed courses and the vigilance of turn marshalls at every dangerous point in the course to keep curious onlookers out of harm's way, the carnage reaches alarming proportions every time a crackup occurs.

Europeans, feeling as they do about their greatest spectator sport, line the roadways dozens-deep to watch the big machinery roar through the countryside. Tragically, in most of the accidents, the driver takes scores of onlookers with him when he goes to claim his final reward.

DURING THE PAST few years, since the days of Pebble Beach and other open-course races throughout the local countryside, the SCCA has pulled out all stops to make the dangerous sport as safe as humanly possible.

Of course, any contest which involves as many as 30 or more men pointing a ton of machinery apiece at a finish line and trying to get there first at speeds often over 100 miles an hour, involves a few more hazards than a taffy pull.

The men and women driving face this fact every time they pay their entry fee.

But it is to the credit of SCCA that their club rules make it mandatory for drivers to wear approved helmets, have adequate roll bars installed in their cars and go through strict technical inspections before the starter waves the go-ahead flag for the big takeoff down the strightaway.

It is also only common sense that they insist on approved tires for all races, the tires representing that thin thread between life and death for a driver moving at the speeds the cars turn up on the course.

ALL OF WHICH reminds me what a shortsighted shame it is that many of our cities (including Corte Madera) insist on saving an infinitesmal percentage of a six-figure budget by buying re-tread tires for their police cars. After all, playing cops and robbers on Highway 101 is considerably more dangerous than racing the big-bore machinery at Vaca Valley.

It only takes one blowout to ring down the curtain on the guy driving the car.

It could also mean curtains for anyone who happened to be minding his own business and tooling along the highway in the opposite direction—which could include me, you and, possibly, even one of the city councilmen who voted for the $15 per tire saving.

Kennedy And Associates Would Restore U.S. Foreign Influence

IT IS PLAIN to all observers, to Gallup and Lubbell and others, that the deepest concern of the American people is with foreign affairs. They are looking for leadership knowing, because they feel it in their bones, that things are going very wrong, that American influence is declining in Asia, in Africa, and in Latin America while the Soviet influence is rising.

The people could find that leadership in the Republican party if it had the sense to nominate Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. They can now find it in the Democratic party under Kennedy and the men, such as Stevenson, Bowles, Humphrey and Symington, who will be near him.

THESE PARTY LEADERS know that in order to stand up to Khrushchev a lot more is needed than to sass him back. There must be power and influence to stand up to Khrushchev. The power cannot be generated by running the economy in low gear and pretending to believe that the country cannot afford to arm itself fully or to educate its children properly or to satisfy its public needs. The influence cannot be generated unless this country, by the vigor and imagination of its own development, becomes again, as it was under Wilson and Roosevelt and indeed in the 19th century generally, a model of what democracy can do.

There are some among us who seem to think that the way to deal with Khrushchev is to be as rude as he is, and to rattle the rocket as he does. Any fool can be rude to Khrushchev, and Washington is full of ghost writers who can write rude statements. But we are not suffering from a lack of rudeness in our policy. What we are suffering from is a failure to attract enough friends among the masses of the people of Asia and Africa and of Latin America.

THIS IS ONLY too evident in the fracas with Castro. The controlling fact is that under the treaty signed with our Latin American neighbors, signed at their insistence, we have renounced altogether the right to intervene in Cuba or to take coercive measures. If Castro is a menace to the peace of the hemisphere, measures can be taken against him only in collaboration with the Organization of American States.

But, apparently, there are few Latin American states in which the people are with us and against Castro, and there are few governments which would not fear our return to the policy of intervention more than they fear the tirades and the intrigues of Castro. We are stymied because to an unusual degree we are not liked and we are not trusted.

IT WAS NOT ALWAYS like that. It was not like that under Roosevelt who, though he did mighty little in a material sense for Latin America, was a popular idol. It would not, I think, be like that if Stevenson were the Secretary of State. For in Latin America, as his recent tour demonstrated, his prestige with the masses and with the governing intellectuals is much greater than that of any other American.

The way for a country to restore its influence is to increase its power and to enlarge its sympathies—so that it is respected, so that it understands and is understood. I think Kennedy realizes that and, judging by one long talk I have had with him, I would say that he knows the score.

Assessment Rise Takes Pressure Off Corte Madera

The squeeze was taken off Corte Madera's town budget last night by word that the town's assessments total nearly a million dollars higher than had been expected.

The news caused Councilman William R. Hansen to declare "we're filthy rich" and urge doubling of the amount planned to be spent in fiscal 1960-61 on filling the 22-acre town park property.

His fellow councilmen, however, failed to share Hansen's enthusiasm. Despite the news that revenue will be higher than anticipated, they chewed their way slowly through examinaton of the 1960-61 budget, adding $7,910 to Town Manager Aruthr H. Brandow's preliminary figures but trimming off $19,081 for a net cut of $1,171.

They hope to complete the budget surgery at a session set for July 27 at 7:30 p.m. Because the parks and recreation commission will be meeting that night in the town hall, the council will meet in the annex.

Brandow announced that he had received from County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel figures showing Corte Madera's total assessed valuation as $10,754,070. His preliminary budget of $316,822 had been based on total assessed valuation of $9,809,559.

Hansen made a hard pitch for raising to $20,000 a proposed $10,000 item for fill for the town park. The town has $17,168 for this purpose carried over from last year. Brandow said adding $10,000 would mean enough money on hand to call for bids on the project and get is actually under way.

Hansen, who had been critical of several street projects "near councilmen's houses," proposed earmarking sales tax funds for an additional $10,00.

"We're filthy rich with other people's dollars from our sales tax and with our increased valuation," he declared. "Our job isn't to administer this town; it's just to get rid of this money as fast as we can."

Councilman Roger F. Morse differed. The town, he said, should try to cut its tax rate —proposed by Brandow as $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, the same as last year. Morse pointed out the town could thus give some relief to taxpayers facing heavy tax bites from school districts and the county.

He called the total of $26,000 in the parks and recreation budget—including the $10,000 for fill—"all that a town this size should put in parks and recreation."

Finally, at midnight, the council put off decision on the parks and recreation budget to the July 27 meeting.

Earlier, it worked laboriously through budgets for street projects, police and fire departments.

Construction funds for improvement of Harbor Drive, estimated at $12,320, were eliminated. However, a $500 engineering item was raised to $2,000, on suggestion of Council Albert Koegler, so the engineering can include preliminary plans for a Marina Village drainage system in connection with the street job. The council hopes the drainage system will be financed by an assessment district.

Hansen argued unsuccessfully for leaving in construction funds for Harbor Drive. Also eliminated was $4,161 proposed for widening and resurfacing the upper portion of Chapman Drive.

Morse argued unsuccessfully for increasing to $10,000 a $5,000 item toward eventual purchase of land for a central station for police and fire departments.

The council killed, for the present, a proposal by Brandow that the town pay half of the California Physicians Service health insurance of town employees. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said Brandow could revive the idea when he submits a proposed personnel ordinance which he is now preparing.

The council agreed to continue to pay for a school crossing guard at Tamalpais Avenue and Eastman Street, but refused to add another at Corte Madera and Redwood Avenues, although Police Chief Frank Nelson said a pupil patrol there had been ruled out because of heavy traffic and distance from the school.

Nelson argued unsuccessfully for two new police officers, rather than one as proposed by Brandow. He also lost out on a proposal to trade in both police cars on new models. A 1957 model will be traded in, but not the 1959 car, the council decided.

The council eliminated $150 proposal for police identification equipment. When, minutes later ,it approved $75 for shoulder patches for police uniforms, a resident arose in the audience to call the action "a little ridiculous."

A tape recorder for the police department, which also will be used at council meetings, was approved.

Paying $3 per drill to volunteer firemen—who have rereceived no drill pay heretofore —won approval after some objections by Hansen. A lengthy list of fire department supplies was approved without quibble.

All five councilmen were present for the session.

Indonesian Family Of 11 Finds Home

A Dutch-Indonesian family with nine children found a new home yesterday through the efforts of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Ruys and their nine youngsters, aged eight months to 20 years, arrived safely from Amsterdam. They will be installed in a San Anselmo hillside house at 7 Millbrae Street.

"They have been living in a little apartment in Amsterdam so they think this is a palace," said Rev. Wesley C. Baker, pastor of the San Rafael church. Before coming here in January, Rev. Baker served three years as chairman for refugee settlement in Southern California.

Ruys, 43, worked as a bookbinder both in Indonesia and in Holland. The church deacons are helping him and his two oldest daughters, Suzanna, 20, and Tillie, 19, to find jobs.

He and his wife, Francine, a native Indonesian, were married in 1945 in Indonesia. The two oldest girls are his daughters by a former marriage. The other youngsters are Wilhelm, 12; Jacob, 10; Sara, 9; Andre, 8; Ina, 6; Raymond, 4; and Bobby, eight months.

The family was expelled from Indonesia in 1950 by the newly independent Indonesian government because Ruys was Dutch. They have been waiting in Amsterdam 10 years to get into the United States, Rev. Baker said.

Their entry was made possible by a recent U.S. law allowing 9,000 Indonesian refugees to immigrate if sponsored by churches or other groups.

College Plans To Hire Business Manager

College of Marin trustees last night created a new position of business manager of the college and offered the job to Norman D. Bird, now business manager of Reedley Junior College, at an annual salary of $10,500.

Bird, 36, was recommended by Dr. Stephen E. Epler, new administrative assistant to President Ward H. Austin, who was hired last week.

Epler has been president of Reedley Junior College the past five years and Bird has been business manager there.

Bird is married and is the father of a 6-year-old daughter. He is president of the Reedley Rotary Club and a member of the city planning commission. A graduate of Central California Commercial College, he is also on the board of directors of the California Assn. of Public School Officials.

The prospective business manager was in Marin County briefly last week and was informally interviewed by trustees Rupert E. Kempf, Elizabeth M. Deedy, Robert E. Oliver and Kent O. Seymour.

Unemployment Increased 39% Last Month In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Unemployment in California leaped 39 per cent last month above what it was in June of 1959.

At the same time, however, there still were more people working at civilian jobs than a year ago.

The number of job hunters rose to 325,000 during June, 20,000 more than the unemployed figure for May, and 91,000 over the total in June a year ago.

The unemployed last month comprised 5.1 per cent of the state's labor force, which hit an all-time high of 6,340,000 during the month.

Irving H. Perluss, state director of employment, said today the marked increase in joblessness reflected the entrance of summer workers into the labor force.

Industrial activity normally increases enough between May and June to offset the summer entrants, but that did not happen this year.

Substantial over-the-year increases in unemployment have occurred in the construction trades and durable goods industries, particularly aircraft.

On the brighter side, State Industrial Relations Director John F. Henning reported 6,015,000 persons held civilian jobs during June, up by 64,000 from May and up 152,000 over June of 1959. Trade, government and services chalked up the biggest job increase from a year ago.

The first power mill for the manufacture of cotton cloth was built in 1814 in Waltham, Mass.

Soviet Offers To Return Yank's Body

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union offered today to hand over the body of an Air Force officer recovered when an American RB-47 reconnaissance plane was shot down July 1.

A Tass News Agency dispatch said the offer was made in a note presented to U.S. Charge d'Affaires Edward L. Freers and which rejected as "groundless" the U.S. protest over the downing of the plane.

The officer previously was identified as Capt. William A. Palm, 39, of Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Tass reported that the new Soviet note said the body of the captain "can be handed over to U.S. representatives at any time."

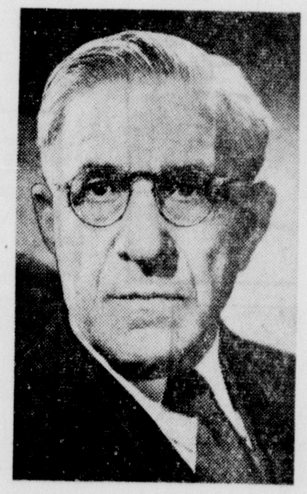
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
A WEEK OF GOOD READING



PROFILE OF THE WEEK—Mill Valley's Dr. Frederic I. Drexler has had three major careers. And in all three capacities, he has served mankind well. He has been a pastor, an educator and a newspaper publisher. And now at the age of 82 he is far from inactive. He is serving temporarily as pastor of Mill Valley's First Baptist Church, continues to take an active part in Baptist affairs and has a wide variety of other interests. In tomorrow's Marin Magazine you will read about how young Frederic, at the age of 7, came to this country from Hungary back in 1885. And you will read about those three careers and the many other interesting activities this prominent Marinite has packed into a useful life. The story of Dr. Drexler is written by Maybelle Speckmann, Independent-Journal reporter.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, July 15, the 197th day of the year, with 169 more in 1960.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1876, George Washington Bradley, playing for the St. Louis baseball team, pitched the first no hit game in major league history.

In 1912, the U. S. won the Olympic Games in Stockholm, Sweden, and King Gustav of that nation commented that Jim Thorpe, a member of the American team, was "the most wonderful athlete in the world."

In 1942, Americans in eastern cities were faced with the first serious meat shortage since the beginning of the war.

In 1945, Italy declared war on its former Axis partner, Japan.

A thought for today: British sociological writer John Ruskin said: "In order that people may be happy in their work, these three things are needed: They must be fit for it; they must not do too much of it, and they must have a sense of success in it."

Giants Must Compile 55-21 Mark In Homestretch To Cop Pennant

CONNOLLY

I'm not such a much for figures, but in the cold light of dawn it is increasingly apparent that the only thing left to the San Francisco Giants is a mathematical chance for the league championship.

It is hard to give up on a team that has so much to offer, and we can't forget the Giants of last decade who came from 'way back yonder to nip the Dodgers. Or even the Braves who came from last place back in 1914 to cop it all.

Today's Giants have played 78 games with 76 to go. If this year's pennant winner can get by with a record of 95 won and 59 lost, that would mean that Stoneham's laddies would have to win 55 and lose 21 during the rest of the season.

It could be done, but don't hold your breath until it happens—blue is a horrible color for a face.

As far as I am concerned, this will be the second year of indecision in San Francisco baseball history. In 1959 it was the too late removal of Andre Rodgers from shortstop and injudicious handling of pitchers that cost us the flag. This year it was again indecision plus a strong dose of stubborness that brought the crash.

THERE IS no need to rehash all the errors made on the field, the dugout and the front office. Every fan worth his salt can count them off on his fingers and toes without stopping for breath. So what's to do about it?

First of all the "Gernts" have to give it the old college try and try to pull out of the division of utter confusion. Failing that, the thing to do is to remember the past but look to the future.

The first step in that direction has been made with the promotion of Juan Marichal from Tacoma and the sale of Joe Shipley. Joe may have been the fastest thrower in baseball, but he was also the wildest. This year he got the ball over more often by easing up a bit, thus becoming a delight to the opposition and the Giant pitcher with the highest earned run average. Joe was not even allowed to pitch batting practice to his own team.

MARICHAL SHOULD help the Giants if he gets support in the field and at bat. Many a great pitcher is lost in the minors when a poor team behind him costs him in the won-lost column. Marichal has been a standout pitching for what is only a fair club in Tacoma. Had he and his teammates "Road Block" Jones been given a chance a month ago the Giants might still be on top. That's moot.

Unless these present players catch fire some other changes should be made. With Orlando Cepeda back at first, Willie McCovey belongs at Tacoma or at best as a spot player. A few other minor adjustments are in order — such as new faces at catcher, second, short, third, left field and the bullpen!

THERE IS STILL talk that Leo Durocher will take over management of the Giants this week. He may have the job before this column is in print. Should he stick his neck out, don't hit it with a bat. Any manager taking over now would be preparing for next season by studying the abilities and temperaments of his charges. Even the Lip would find it tough to jack up our floundering flailers.

The All-Star break this week should help. A rested pitching staff and a healthy Eddie Bressoud and Jimmy Davenport, Cepeda at first and a new face in left field and the Giants could become the terrors they once were on paper.

There I go holding my breath again!

GIANTS CHAMPS (LITTLE LEAGUE VERSION)

Showdown Test; Sad Sam Vs. Drysdale In Opener

Showdown testing of the slumping San Francisco Giants opens tonight in Candlestick Park with the resurging Los Angeles Dodgers aiming to keep them on the skids.

Fifteen games remain for the Giants in their current home stand—15 that should determine if San Francisco can come back into National League contention.

Following the Dodgers into Candlestick Park will be Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee and Cincinnati.

Asked if he thought the rest during the All-Star break would help his club, Manager Tom Sheehan, replied, "We'll have to wait and see."

For one thing, shortstop Eddie Bressoud should return to the lineup after being sidelined with an injured ankle.

At the All-Star break, the defending World Champion Dodgers held third place, 8 games behind leading Pittsburgh with the Giants and Cardinals 8½ games back. A victory tonight could send San Francisco back into third place ahead of the Dodgers.

Since Sheehan took over as manager from Bill Rigney June 18, his club has won 7 while losing 13. They'd lost five straight before Dave Philley connected with a three-run pinch homer to beat the Cubs 5-3 in San Francisco last Sunday.

JONES-DRYSDALE

Sheehan nominated his big right-hander Sam Jones with an 11-8 record to oppose fireball hurler Don Drysdale, 6-10, in tonight's opener of a three-game series.

There are bright spots for the home club in addition to Bressoud's return. Left-hander Johnny Antonelli has pitched well enough in his last two relief stints to win his way back onto the starting rotation. The southpaw had won 12 games when the All-Star break came last year. Right now he's just 3-6 on the season.

Joining the club today was 21-year-old right-hander Juan Marichal, the leading strikeout thrower of the Pacific Coast League with an 11-5 record at Tacoma. Sheehan says he'll be used as a starter.

The manager gave his player three days of rest before calling a workout for yesterday. Tonight he gets the answer to whether the rest helped his club.

Walt Alston, the Los Angeles manager who piloted the National League All-Stars to a pair of victories during the week, was expected to follow Drysdale with Giant-killer lefty Johnny Podres and right-hander Stan Williams. Those were the two that closed the door on San Francisco in the Coliseum a week ago.

Braves Snap Jinx To Trim Bucs' Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Mathews was in a slump so bad he was even talking about it. Milwaukee's slugging third baseman hadn't hit a home run in 19 games, and his batting average was down to .266 with just two hits in 27 trips.

The second-place Braves were stumbling along the same way, losing 11 of their last 19 games. What's worse, they had managed to beat first-place Pittsburgh just three times in 13 tries. And they were 0-4 against little lefty Harvey Haddix of the Pirates.

They buried the slumps and the Haddix jinx but good last night, winning 4-0 at Pittsburgh as Mathews walloped a home run, a triple and a double while driving in three runs behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette's neat ninth-inning relief.

MAKEUP GAME

The loss, coming in a makeup game while the rest of the major league clubs were resting after the All-Star games, trimmed the Pirates' lead to four games again.

It was during the All-Star games, which don't count in regular season statistics, that Mathews mentioned the slump he was trying to shake—and showed signs of shaking it by belting a two-run homer in Wednesday's 6-0 victory over the American League at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Oddly, the left-handed hitting Mathews broke the slump against three left-handed pitchers. It was Yankee Whitey Ford who gave up his All-Star jolt, and it was Haddix and reliever Fred Green who were tagged for his extra-base hits at Pittsburgh.

Billy Bruton, Del Crandall and Mathews each had three of the Braves' 15 hits against the Pirates, and a dozen of 'em were off Haddix, now 6-5.

Bruton's lead off single and Mathews' double gave the Braves a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Then, with Bruton on base again, Mathews walloped his 17th home run in the fifth inning. It was the seventh ever to clear the roof of the double-deck rightfield stands at Forbes Field, and the second Mathews has sent over that barrier.

The Braves got their final run in the ninth, when Mathews tripled and scored on Joe Adcock's squeeze bunt.

Buhl (9-3) won his fourth in a row. He gave up singles by Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski in the first three innings, but then no-hit the Bucs until the ninth, when Skinner and Dick Stuart singled for what looked like another of the Pirates' last-inning rallies.

But Burdette then came on and shut 'em out, retiring Roberto Clemente, Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak in order for the Pirates' third defeat in the last five games and their ninth in the last 17.

Players To Vote On 1 Or 2 'Star' Games

NEW YORK (UPI)—So far only one major league All-Star Game is in the works for 1961, and whether there will be two hinges on a poll of the players that will be taken during the coming week.

Thus was the future of baseball's mid-summer classic outlined today in statements by Frank Scott, spokesman for the big-leaguers, and a spokesman for the office of Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

"The idea of two All-Star Games was given a trial last year and this year as an experiment," said Frank Slocum of the commissioner's office. "So far the major leagues have only a commitment for one All-Star Game in 1961 in San Francisco. Whether there will be one or two remains to be seen."

Scott declined to predict what the result of the player poll would be.

"My office is conducting the poll and it will be finished within a week," said Scott. "A simple majority will rule."

The notion of two All-Star Games instead of one sprang from the players themselves, believing that the extra income from the extra game was needed to fulfill plans in the players pension program.

But several of the players indicated displeasure with the idea after Wednesday's game which drew a disappointing crowd of 38,362 at Yankee Stadium to see the National League 6-0 complete a "sweep" of 1960's two games by beating the American League.

Harvey Kuenn of the Cleveland Indians, the American League player representative, thought that fans might "appreciate the game more if there were only one."

Outspoken Ted Williams suggested that fans don't want to pay inflated prices ($8.40 for box seats, $6.30 for reserved seats). He pointed out that the Yankee Stadium bleachers were crowded, but that the grandstand was only half-filled.

Busman's Holiday

VON SALTZA TIES RECORD

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Chris Von Saltaz of Santa Clara, Calif., tied her pending American record and cracked the AAU championship record for the 100-meter free style today in a trial heat at Broad Ripple Pool.

Miss Von Saltza, America's best hope for women's free-style points in the Olympics, was timed at 1:01.7.

Marin Swim Team Scores Victory

Marin Pirates swim team, paced by Lynne Keeler and Bob Girvin, splashed to victory over Glen Oaks team yesterday in a dual meet at the Glen Oaks pool.

Miss Keeler, competing in the girls 13 and 14-age-bracket, and Girvin, in the 10 and under boys class, each garnered seven first-place ribbons as the Pirates racked up 311 points to 282 for the losers.

Terry Politi, 13-14 boys' class, won four first-place ribbons for Coach Beth Kaufman's Pirates. Other ribbon winners for Marin were Allison Pringle, Molly Wheary, Candy Beeler, Sue Smith, Kirsten Beeler, Linda Nannizi, Donna Politi, Carol Rudloff, Jenny Dorais, Paula Cummins, Gerry Keeler, Chris Cozzi, Tom Nannizi, Denny Arms, Bart Yeager, Jed Bullard, Tim Frost, Bill Anderson, John Osborn, George Girvin, John Hendry, Mac Dunwoody, Tony Crossler, Ken Frost, Dick Stewart, Ed Rudloff and Chris Coombs.

Marin Softballers Upset Presidio '9'

Sohner Tree Service won its fourth straight game by upsetting Presidio Army Base, 4-1, in a softball game played in San Francisco last night.

Jay Leatherwood hurled a nifty three-hitter and struck out eight to record his second win of the season against no losses.

Sohner's scored all its runs in the third inning on two walks, an error, and a pair of base hits. Bob Alvarado's clutch single was the key blow.

Both teams will be competing in the San Anselmo Recreation Department's Invitational Softball Tournament to be held July 27-31 in the Hub City. Other teams entered in the tournament are Hamilton Air Force Base, McPhail's and Jameson Trucking of Petaluma.

Senior Leaguers Vie In Hub City

Four games in the new San Anselmo Senior League — matching boys who last spring produced Drake High School's varsity and junior varsity championships—feature a full weekend of baseball in the Hub City's Memorial Park.

The Senior League, using major league rules except that free substitution is allowed, plays on the "big diamond" at the park.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. Iacopi Meat Co. meets the San Anselmo Merchants and at 12:40 p.m. Guasco Super Market engages Currie Construction. Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Iacopi and Guasco tangle and at 3 p.m. Currie and the Merchants clash.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Ex-Marin Catholic Ace Creighton Sets S.O. Record In Pro League

Marin County hasn't really had a top-notch major league pitching prospect since Artie Schallock turned professional back in the 1940s and went on to hurl for the Yankees and Baltimore Orioles.

However, it looks like we have another pip of a lefty moundsman headed for future big time stardom in Dick Creighton, former Marin Catholic High School star, recently signed a contract with the Washington Senators.

The latest copy of the St. Louis Sporting News brings the sensational report that Creighton recently established a record for the Appalachian (Class D) League by striking out 21 batters in a nine-inning game while hurling the Senators' farm club, Wytheville (Va.) to an 8-1 victory over Bluefield.

The Senators' prize rookie, who sarred for University of Santa Clara and the San Anselmo semi-pro team before signing the dotted line, walked only three and gave up four hits in his pro masterpiece. In one stretch he retired 13 batters in a row, 11 of them via the strikeout route. Dick fanned the side three times in the game and whiffed two men in each of the six other innings.

His team, by the way, leads the Appalachian League.

THERE'LL BE plenty of fountain pens and dotted lines in attendance at Albert Field July 29-Aug. 11 when the California State Semi-Pro Baseball Championships are played.

No less than 19 major league scouts are scheduled to swoop down like vultures on the park to look over and try to sign some of the top-notch players.

The Giants will have three scouts here—Eddie Montague, Ed Ticoulet and Hank Sauer. Other scouts who'll be on hand are Charley Wallgren of the Red Sox, Bill Brenzel and Dick Murray of the Dodgers, Eddie Bockman of the Phillies, Don McShane and Fred Hoffman of the Orioles, Eddie Lake of the Senators, Dario Lodigiani of Cleveland, Roy Johnson of the Cubs, Marv Owens and Bill Marshall of the Braves, Don Pries of the Cardinals, George Powles of the Cincinnati Reds, Tony Rebello and Dolph Camilli of the Yankees and Herman Reich of the White Sox.

This tournament annually provides land-office business for the major league bloodhounds. For example, six members of last year's runner-up team in the tourney, the San Mateo Blues, turned pro. They, and their bonuses, were: Jim Fregosi, Boston Red Sox, $35,000; Ken Dekker Yankees, $20,000; Darryl Webber and Joe Durelli, both with Philadelphia for $30,000 each; Art Von Wronski, Baltimore, $15,000.

Already this year the Blues have lost two stars to the lure of professional money. Gene Tagliaferri signed with Kansas City for 15 grand and Jim Liggett got a $25,000 bonus from Baltimore.

WALTER MAILS reports that members of San Quentin's Little League ball club will appear on Russ Hodges' "Meet Your Giants" telecast tomorrow night (Channel 4).

Joining the kids on the show will be Warden Fred Dickson and J. V. Fitzgerald, C. G. Adams and Lt. E. C. Brawley of the prison staff.

SAN RAFAEL'S National Little League players — some 160 strong—will be guests of the Giants when they play Pittsburgh on Aug. 31.

WANT SOME more news from the Giants? Well, during this week's All-Star break Danny Olsen of Peri's Fairfax softball team challenged the National Leaguers to a softball game. "Are you kidding?" snapped Mails. "Softball's a girls' game."

"Well, retaliated Olsen, "that is better than what the Giants have been playing lately."

TOP NOTCH semi-pro baseball action is on tap for local fans Sunday when Tiburon Pelicans and San Anselmo Ongaro Plumbers, two of the better clubs in the area, clash in their annual "grudge" game at Tiburon, 2:30 p.m.

AND DON'T forget our four young stars who will play for Northern California against San Francisco in the Examiner's All-Star Game at San Francisco's Big Rec Park Sunday, 2 p.m. Marin's representatives are Ron Blum, Dick Spackman, Bill Buffalow and Ron Cole.

BOWLING

Bob Stevenson fired a 567 series, including a 220 game, to steal top honors in this week's Mixed Mates League at Greenbrae Lanes.

Fred Thurman had a 565 series and 235 high game and Ken Green came in with a 534. Charles Krause collected a 202 solo.

Among the women Sylvia DeVere hit for 491, including a 199, Bonnie Benz had a 453, Joan Thurman 429, Mimi Shelly 412, and Dempy Mooromsky 407.

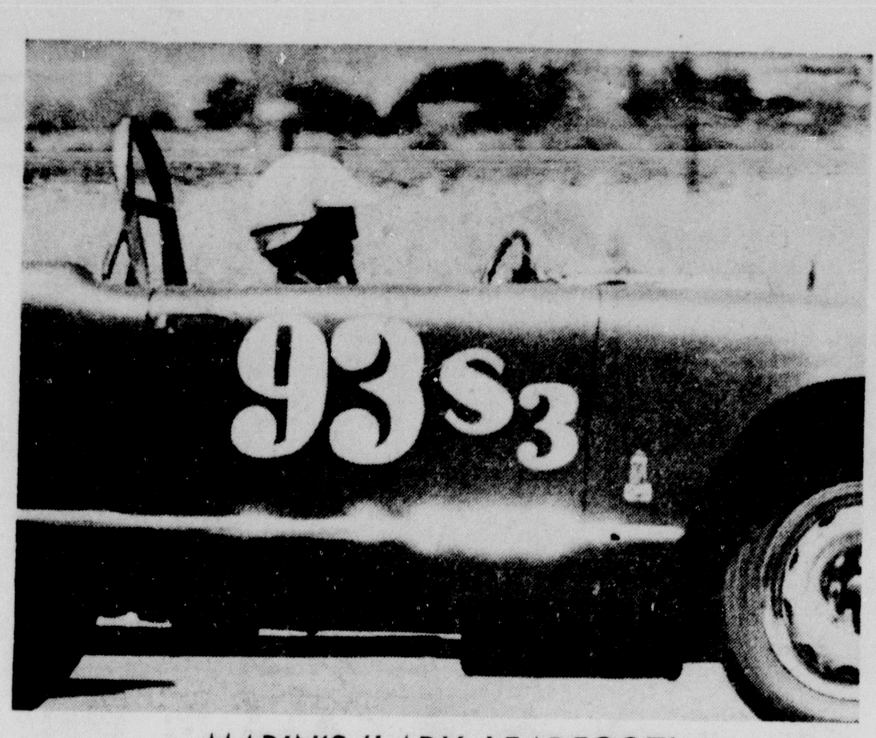
PIN POOPERS have won the first half of the Boondockers Women's League at Greenbrae. During the first half the top series were Corina Bacigalupi's 488, Stella Lampros' 472 and Mayre Walberg's 464.

Little Leaguers Vie For M.V. City Title Tomorrow

Mill Valley's Little League baseball championship will be decided tomorrow when the titlists of the two leagues clash in the sixth annual playoffs.

They are the Realtors of the National League and the Braves of the American circuit. Batter-up time is 1:30 p.m. Stay-at-homes may listen to the proceedings over Radio KTIM with Ted Mitchell handling the play-by-play.

The Realtors, managed by Stan Woodward, compiled a won-lost record of 18-2 this year and 34-2 over the past two seasons. Manager Ernie Seguiera's Braves, who had a 12-6 mark this year, beat the Eaglets in a playoff last week for the chance to play for the city title tomorrow.



MARIN'S 'LADY LEADFOOT'

Road race driver Odette Bigler of San Rafael is shown behind the wheel of her Alfa Guieletta at Vaca Valley last Sunday as she reflects the grimly serious side of handling a competitive car at high speeds. One of Marin County's leading "leadfoots," she placed second in class in her race. This view of her was taken with a telephoto lens as she sped through turn 8 of the 2.1-mile circuit. SIXTO BEATEN BY SPOKANE LIGHT HEAVY

SPOKANE (AP)—Kirk Barrow, 178¼, Spokane, survived a furious late-round rally by Sixto Rodriguez of San Anselmo last night to post a 10-round unanimous decision over the California state light heavyweight champion.

Rodriguez weighed 176½.

Barrow swept the first five rounds and scored the only knockdown in the fast-paced scrap when he decked Rodriguez for the mandatory eight-count with a chopping right in the second round.

Rodriguez began to solve Barrow after the midway point. In the ninth a series of solid rights had the Spokane battler reeling all around the ring but Sixto couldn't put across the finisher.

Rodriguez was unable to overcome Barrow's early lead.

Bucs Recall Witt, Send Giel To PCL

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today recalled righthanded pitcher George Witt from Salt Lake City and replaced him at the Pacific Coast League club with righthander Paul Giel.

Witt had an outstanding season as a rookie in 1958 with a 9-2 record and a 1.61 earned run average. He was hampered by a sore shoulder last year and had a dismal 0-7 record.

Small Boats Sail In Big Regatta Sunday

By ALFRED MATSON

The ever-growing fleet of the Small Boat Racing Assn. will vie for season's points and trophies in the championship regatta sponsored by the Sausalito Yacht Club come Sunday.

However, the battles for supremacy will be staged in two widely-separated areas. The fleets of many classes have been broken down into four divisions, Classes One and Two represent the small, small yachts whereas Divisions Three and Four comprise the boats of mere "small" designation.

The little fellers in the first two divisions represent the following classes: El Toro, Melody, Penguin, Coast 13, Blue Jay, Lido 14, and Satellite. The larger craft are of classes Snipe, Finn, Thistle, National One Design, International 110 Zephyr, Clipper and Mercury.

Due to the fact that the waters of Richardson Bay are, at times, not too kindly, smaller varieties—Divisions One and Two—will confine their activities to Lake Merritt and under the auspices of the Lake Merritt Sailing Club.

STARTING TIMES

There will be two races in both instances, 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. for the Lake Merritt contingent. The Sausalito fleet will have the same morning start, but the afternoon contests will start at 2 p.m.

The good sailors had hoped to have their new clubhouse fully complete for the regatta but didn't quite make it. They assure all the visiting yachtsmen that everything will be done to make their stay a pleasant one, however.

Last, but not least, all skippers must attend the meeting with the race committee at 9:45 for course instructions.

Marin County Dog Licenses

Dog licenses for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1960, and ending June 30, 1961, are now due and payable on or before 5:00 P. M., August 31, 1960. The license fee for each dog is $3.00 and the penalty for non-payment after August 31, 1960, is $1.00. Licenses may be procured from the City Tax Collector, County Tax Collector or the Marin County Public Pound. A CURRENT RABIES VACCINATION CERTIFICATE MUST BE PRESENTED WITH PAYMENT. Applications for dog licenses have been mailed to the last known address to those who obtained a license last year. New owners should contact the Tax Collector's office or the Marin County Pound and secure an application without delay.

Promoter Eyes Candlestick For Title Go

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Promoter Bill Fugazy was scheduled to leave San Francisco and go to Los Angeles today in his dickering to find a site for the third world heavyweight title fight between Ingemar Johansson and Champion Floyd Patterson.

"So far as I'm concerned, I think the fight is coming to California—either to San Francisco or Los Angeles," the Feature Sports Inc. representative told Mayor George Christopher.

A decision is expected in 20 to 30 days.

Fugazy was given the red carpet treatment by city officials when he arrived here yesterday. Christopher whisked the promoter from the airport to Candlestick Park, home of the Giants, which seats 42,500.

"It is one of the most beautiful places to put on a fight that I have ever seen," Fugazy said, and added "what's the weather in October or November?"

"Our best time of year. The weather's perfect," Christopher replied.

DALLAS CONSIDERED

Fugazy and his friends, including Roy Cohn, former investigator for the late Senator Joseph McCarthy, came here from Dallas, another possible site.

"We're interested in Dallas because Lamar Hunt and a group there may be able to guarantee us a million dollars. It would take a guarantee like that to keep the fight from going to San Francisco or Los Angeles," Fugazy said.

Christopher said he couldn't promise anything like a million dollar guarantee. But the mayor did pledge "more than adequate" police protection.

'Unknown' QB Looms As Star For Oakland

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—Coach Eddie Erdelatz is moulding his Oakland Raiders of the new American Football League from a big bunch of little-known former collegians.

Few fans outside northern California ever heard of Tom Flores yet he could be the No. 1 quarterback of the fledgling pro team.

A 190-pounder, standing six feet one inch, Flores played high school ball at Sanger, Calif., moved a few miles to Fresno for junior college competition, then on to College of the Pacific at Stockton.

As a junior in 1956 he ranked fourth nationally in total offense, and in 1957 was sixth in passing offense. He might have gained more fame nationally as a senior except for a shoulder injury.

After a season with Calgary in Canadian pro ball, Flores underwent surgery on the shoulder and coached the freshmen at COP. Today, at the age of 23, he looks on the Raiders as his big chance.

Coach Erdelatz ranks Flores as his top quarterback, followed by Paul Larson, formerly of the University of California, and Bob Webb, a 205-pounder who won Little All-America honors and gained 5,101 yards passing during his career at St. Ambrose.

CHEVROLET

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

◀ "I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

BOWLING CENTER COMING ALONG FAST

Brunswick Co. this week began installing lanes at the Nave Lanes bowling center in Ignacio, but the owners couldn't wait for completion before they tried their skill. During lunch time yesterday Bill Jr., Bob and Rich Nave (right) set up some pins and entertained construction workers by bowling on the unfinished lanes. The Naves said their 32-lane establishment should be open for business by Labor Day, Sept. 5. Leagues are now being formed.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Striper Stiving Should Improve, Fair To Good Weekend Predicted

STEVENS

When it comes to the conservation of fish in the major portion of the San Pablo Bay, Dame Nature takes first place. Between minus tides, rough water and badly colored water, the shallow water areas have yielded mighty few stripers. Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia Slough sadly reported, "No fish, Ralph!" Only one boat out on Wednesday and not very many for the past four days.

But—the minus tides are over, the winds should blow themselves out by the time you read this article, and the water will clear up. Hence, we stick our wrinkled head-support out a few inches and predict fair to good striper striving for the weekend.

If it is any consolation, action is much better on the Crockett-Port Costa area. Not too many fish coming in on bait from the San Pablo, but Johnny Sivera on the Dowrelio No. 5, drove his customers up the Carquinez Strait Tuesday in the general area we call the Black Can (off Port Costa). He came back to port with eight stripers, including one of 21 pounds and one that weighed in at 12 pounds. All on bait. The late evening trolling out of Crockett has been centered in the same area mainly due to the rough water in the bay. Each boat for the past four days in succession has returned to the harbor before sundown with limits or near limits. Not large fish, mostly in the four to six-pound class. Best bets are Duroflash spoons with pork rind tail baits and/or white and yellow bug-eyed jigs.

ROY ERWIN of the Western Sport Shop of San Rafael reported a blank trip for himself, but a two-fish catch for his partner, Charlie Malone. The occasion was a trolling trip to the Sisters on Tuesday. Roy also reported a great trout trip for Charles Johnson of Inverness. Johnson fished the Yuba branch last weekend with so much success he is making a return trip this weekend.

THE CONCENTRATION of stripers in the Racoon Strait and off the Sand Bar at Alca-Otraz still seems to exist. We learned that at least three boats out of the Berkeley Harbor—the R.S.P., the Troller and the Little Dragnet — have been making two trips daily and loading up each time. Modus operandi for the a.m. is heavy sinker; p.m., when the fish usually swim close to the surface, little or no weight.

CATCHABLE size trout were scheduled to be stocked in the following waters this week: Lake County — Kelsey Creek; Marin County — Lagunitas, Phoenix lakes; San Francisco County—Lake Merced (north lake); San Mateo County—Pescadero Creek; Santa Cruz County — Fall, San Vicente creeks; San Lorenzo River above Boulder Creek.

SOME 200,000 three-inch fingerling trout have been planted in Lake Merced in addition to the plant of catchables in Merced's north lake. It is expected that most of the 200,000 youngsters will be large enough to catch this fall.

LING COD fisherman sure had a gala time last Saturday out of Santa Cruz. The Stagnaro Deep Sea Fishing reported the unusually high catch of this desirable fish off New Year's Island. A grand total of 170 ling cod was boated by the skippers of two boats. (We have never noted the name of a Marin County angler in the weekly report from Santa Cruz — woner why?)

Ray Gardner of Princeton by the Sea on Half Moon Bay reported 173 lings landed during last week as well as beaucoup bluefish, Baccacios, yellow rockfish.

Mill Valley Lists All-Star Teams For Tournament

National and American Little Leagues of Mill Valley have selected their All-Star teams to play in the post-season All-Star Tournament commencing July 27.

Stan Woodward has been named manager of the National League team with Gene Perani and Dick Powers serving as coaches. George King will manage the American League and Ernie Sequiera will be his coach.

The roster of the National League:

Dick Finn, Ron Rhoades, Tom Hayes, Steve Woodward and Jim Hopper of the Realtors; Tom Lecy, Ken Clarke and Ed Smith of the Yankees; Peter Nelson and Larry Maffei of the Lions; Dennis Quinn and Jim Tupper of the Merchants; Jim Tamburini of the Giants; David Einstein of the Corvairs.

WHOPPERS — Gunnar Anderson of San Rafael is pictured with the salmon he caught this week in the mouth of Tomales Bay off Dillon Beach. They weighed in at 34 and 12 pounds.

Junior Net Schedule Continues Tomorrow

Another action-packed day is in store for tennis lovers tomorrow as the Marin Junior Tournament continues at Albert Field in San Rafael.

More than eight hours of competition was on the schedule for today's first round and more of the same is promised for tomorrow. The Saturday schedule shows the first matches starting at 9 a.m. and the last contests to start at 5 p.m.

The tournament, co-sponsored by the Independent-Journal and the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department, continues next Friday and Saturday.

Callison Gains Semi-Finals In National Publinx

HONOLULU (UPI)—Regardless of the outcome of today's 36-hole semi-finals in the 35th annual National Amateur Public Links Golf Tournament, tomorrow's 36-hole final will be a battle of age against youth and possibly an all-Michigan affair.

Victors in yesterday's quarter-finals were Verne Callison, 41, a Sacramento, Calif., tavern owner; Mike Andonian, 34, a Pontic, Mich., math teacher; Bob McMasters, 25, a Royal Oak, Mich., salesman, and Ty Caplin, East Lansing, Mich., a 23-year-old student of Michigan State University who "played hookey" from summer school to make the tournament.

Callison, one of California's best amateurs, plays Andonian in today's first semi-final, rated the top match of the day.

Wells Stars In L. A. Scrimmage

ORANGE (AP)—There is spirited competition for the backfield positions on the Los Angeles Chargers.

Coach Sid Gillman, driving his squad through the opening scrimmage session yesterday was impressed with the running of Billy Wells, formerly of Michigan State, the Pittsburgh Steelers, Philadelphia Eagles and Washington Redskins.

Gillman has Wells stationed at left half. Also competing in the backfield are Billy Renolds of Oklahoma, Paul Lowe of Oregon State, Jim "Jetstream" Smith of Compton and Luther Carr of Washington.

Gillman has called another scrimmage for tomorrow.

Working On Railroad

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (AP)—Willard Steele, who retired recently after 50 years with the Pennsylvania Railroad, figures he traveled almost a million miles—but not by train. He drove the 70 miles to Indianapolis every working day since 1927

Marinwood Names All-Star Squad

Marinwood Little League today announced the selection of its 14-player All-Star team that will participate in the Marin County All-Star Tournament starting later this month.

The Marinwood team will be managed by Bob Wallace and coached by Stan George. The team includes Paul Page, Jerry Santiago, Mike Presta, Mike Krambs, Rich Codington, Bob Crowell, Steve Wallace, Steve Gibbs, Curt Yaeger, John Leaird, Pete Marcovich, Ron Cannaday, Dave Michelson and Rich Shirley. John Hills has been named an alternate.

M/Sgt. Russell To Coach Hamilton

Master Sergeant Fred Russell is taking over as head coach of the Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders football team this year.

A story in the Independent-Journal Wednesday gave Russell's name incorrectly.

Russell was head coach of an Air Force football team in England which took the U. S. European Forces championship in 1954, 1955 and 1956. He was backfield coach for last year's Hamilton team.

SOMETHING NEW IN MARIN HOUSING

This sketch shows architectural conception of Terra Linda Gardens cooperative apartment project, for which ground was broken this week. The project, in north San Rafael, will have 160 units, to be built at a cost of $2,793,600 in one year's time by Stolte Construction Co. of Oakland and Calvin Wheeler and Associates of San Rafael. It is spon sored by Foundation for Cooperative Housing of New York. Leo A. Abrals and Associates of Sunnyvale are architects, with structural supervision by Miller and Severin of San Rafael.

California Budget Increase Predicted

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's budget makers, aiming at a balanced state budget without new taxes through June 1962, are seeking to hold general fund spending to 1.8 billion dollars in 1961-62.

The tentative figures released today by the State Finance Department, would be an increase of about 116 million dollars, or 7 per cent, over the present spending program —small, as state cost increases go. The present fiscal year ends June 30, 1961.

The General Fund usually makes up about two-thirds of state spending, indicating a budget of about 2¾ billion dollars for the year starting July 1, 1961. The present one is just under 2½ billion.

It means that state departments will get for the next fiscal year's operations just about what they're getting this year unless they can show a compelling need for new money.

The Finance Department expects a 2.2 per cent saving by each department on this year's budget, but would make money available for increases in 1961-62.

Under the new state budgeting system, the finance director estimates income, then proposes lump sum allocations for each department.

It ends the former practice of department heads padding their money requests in advance of expected cuts by the Finance Department.

Robert L. Harkness, assistant finance director, said in releasing the proposed allocation program for 1961-62:

"The thing we're trying to avoid is anyone saying this is the budget. We're just giving the departments targets to shoot at."

The biggest part of state sp

The biggest part of state spending, more than one billion dollars, is earmarked by the Constitution or state laws and is beyond control of the budget makers.

For instance, the Constitution and statutes require state aid to school districts, and if school enrollments climb by the expected 200,000 school apportionments automatically rise by 40 million dollars to 709½ million.

Gets Ensign Rank

Gerald Norman Burton, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Burton of 1251 San Anselmo Avenue, has been commissioned an ensign in the Navy and is now in Pensacola, Fla., with his wife, Barbara, to take flight training. His parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Worth of 110 Treanor Street, San Rafael, attended his graduation from Oregon State College last month.

Cuba Places Blast Blame On Foreigners

HAVANA (AP) — A special judge appointed to investigate the explosion of the French munitions ship La Coubre in Havana Harbor reported today the blast was "committed by unknown foreigners to prevent the delivery of arms" to Cuba.

Judge Fernando Lopez said his four-month investigation showed a detonator placed in the munitions, presumably during loading at Antwerp, Belgium, caused the March 4 explosion that killed 54 persons, injured more than a hundred and left 27 missing. Property damage amounted to more than a million dallars, Lopez said.

He added that the arms were shipped from Antwerp "despite the efforts of the United States consul in Brussels to prevent the shipment."

Prime Minister Fidel Castro in a funeral oration for the La Coubre dead said U.S. offficials sought to keep Cuba from buying the munitions. He accused the United States of responsibility for the explosion. The United States denied the charge and termed it irresponsible and unfounded.

Mary, Queen of Scots, was beheaded in 1587 as an accomplice in a plan to murder Queen Elizabeth.

Young Republicans Will Meet Tuesday

Young Republicans of Marin will combine business and sociability at a gathering at the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo at 8 p.m. Tuesday, announced president William D. Keeler.

A short business meeting will precede the social, which will start at 8 p.m. with showing of movies of Point Reyes. Mrs. Edwin W. Thomas, social chairman, and her committee will serve refreshments.

Col. Ceuleers Leaves HAFB Tomorrow

Col. George Ceuleers, commander of Hamilton Air Force Base, will formally leave the base tomorrow to head for 11 months of book work at the National War College.

Ceuleers has been, figuratively, landlord of a base with a 27-million-dollar military and civlian payroll yearly and with a population of up to 20,000, including personnel and their families.

In the three years he has been base commander, Ceullers has seen reorganization of the 78th Fighter Wing which he commands to make it "the strongest" . . . the finest I've ever seen in the Air Force."

Ceuleers will turn over command in public ceremonies tomorrow to Col. Harvey E. Henderson, expected to arrive on the base today. Henderson officially takes over command July 27. Interim commander will be the present deputy commander, Col. Benjamin Cassiday.

Henderson's latest assignment has been with the Office of Research and Engineering of the Director of Defense in Washington, D. C.

Included in the review tomorrow will be about 1,500 base personnel, Air Force Academy cadets visiting the base, and flybys by jet fighters.

Man Hurt In Fall From Marin Span

A 57-year-old man was seriously injured early today when he fell 10 feet from a bridge in Homestead Valley. He told police it was his third fall from a bridge in 10 years.

Victor Edwin Bettencourt, who has been living "in transit" on the outskirts of Mill Valley, was sitting on the rail of a bridge over Homestead Creek when he fell, reported Mill Valley police.

Bettencourt told police he fell 40 feet from a railroad trestle in Mill Valley 10 years ago, and off the Richardson Bay Bridge several years ago. Both times he was unhurt, he said.

Bettencourt suffered a neck injury in today's fall, and was reported in serious condition at San Rafael General Hospital.

'A CONVENTION OF FASHION' will keynote the opening luncheon on Wednesday, July 20, in the Northgate Summer Luncheon Series at the Art and Garden Center in Ross. Modeling at the opening event, sponsored by the Northgate Group, will be members, from left, Mesdames Leroy Page and Harding McPhun.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER, Mrs. H. Wallace Hickman and Pat Hickman, will be among the models for the 'Convention' show. A large number of Marinites will entertain guests at the luncheon. Fashions will be by a Kentfield shop. (Independent-Journal photos)

High Hatting Seen In Italian Showings

ROME (UPI)—The old "ladies will kindly remove their hats" signs at the movies will have to be revived this winter with an addition—"and also remove their hair."

High hatting emerged today as an indispensable feature of the new Italian line—some of the hats perched high on mountainous topknots of false hair.

Baratta, the lyfic poet of Italian ladies' tailors, capped his mannequins with upzooming velour versions of the recurring ice-cap shape, high crowned cloches and elongated Martian domes. The rare brim was whittled down to almost nothing.

The line held firm against occasional attack as Italian fashion pressed on in the second and final day of the Rome showings.

It could scarcely have looked more appealing than it did in the Baratta collection.

His regally tailored suits, coats and wool dresses — straight as a chemise in front (the "non-existent" front he calls it) sail out in back like severely tailored balloons. Virtuoso panels and blousing do the trick.

His skirts were the shortest seen to date, in some cases slightly longer in back than in front but not enough to qualify as uneven.

Bolero-backed blouses had a button-down tab in front, a detail repeated in many of the dresses. Short panels turned jackets and coats into boleros from behind, skirts were either deeply pleated in back to give extra freedom or were covered with a flying panel all the way down.

Fall colors in rich tones of brown, beige, russet, wine and green were all Baratta used besides grey and black. A mustard green suit had one long coat-tail buttoning to the skirt hem at the back. Fur chokers finished off the high necks and Mata Hari stalked again in a black fox face muffler.

With De Luca, hats went all out—shakos, melon-headed butcher boy caps, and domes of nodding plumes, with vistors to suggest feathered military helmets, topped turtle necked blouses and turtle-backed coats.

The mysterious East swept through the De Luca collection with harem pants in pink georgette crepe and Turkish-looking dinner panamas in warped taffeta with panels flaring from the back shoulder seam all the way down the legs. Mountainous topknots of false hair, and mink soup cans on top of the top knots were straight out of the Arabian Nights.

Colors were Oriental in name, too—madras red, curry beige, Taj Mahal pink and so on, but De Luca's own preference ran to plain black and white.

Band Box Meet

The July meeting of the Band Box will be held on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the John Robert Powers Studio in San Rafael.

Guest speaker will be Myron Zwang of a San Rafael store. Mr. Zwang will speak on fashions for fall. Refreshments will be served.

'Convention' Theme For Northgate Event

The opening luncheon of the Northgate summer luncheon series will be held on July 20 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. It is sponsored by the Northgate group.

Called "A Convention Of Fashion" the show will be divided into sections called "Hail to the Red, White, and Blue," "Voters' Choice," "Our Platform Is Pleats," "Dark Horses," and "Future Voters."

Mrs. Grace C. Graham, a Northgate member, is in charge of fashions which will be shown by a Kentfield sportswear shop.

Models, all Northgate members, will include Mesdames Leonard De Martin, Edgar T. Lindner, Walter Cozad, Le Roy Page, Henry Skinner, Robert Pomeroy, James Levensaler, Harding McPhun, Charles Trost, and H. Wallace Hickman. Northgate Junior models will be Pat Hickman, Pat Mahoney, and Nora Baird.

Entertaining at luncheon will be Mesdames Norman B. Livermore, George Tobin, William Waste, Eugene Lloyd, Arthur Kanzel, Harold Elliott, John Geary, R. M. Hill, Roy Brown, Kendrick Miller, and Bruce Cornwall, all of Marin, and Miss Geraldine Bowman and Mrs. Henry Parachini of San Francisco. Mrs. Edward Ruff, Northgate president, and Mrs. Jack L. Hunt will sponsor no-host tables.

For reservations call the Art and Garden Center.

Tally-Ho Party, Horseshow Will Be Staged On Aug. 20

The annual Tally-Ho Party and Horseshow will be held Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Menlo Circus Club as a highlight of the late summer season. Plans indicate that the all-day benefit, which is sponsored by the Woodside-Atherton Jr. Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home, will offer an even greater variety of entertainment than in previous years.

An oriental theme has been selected for the party, and a large collection of authentic lanterns, screens, and other decorator's items are being imported from the Far East especially for the occasion. Climax of the event will be an auction of the decor, with top bidders taking home many items of art and interest extremely in this country.

The morning's activities will get off to an early start with the first horseshow beginning at 8:30 a.m. There will be a variety of other entertainment for the children throughout the morning and afternoon, with the second horseshow scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Evening festivities will begin at 5 p.m. with informal entertainment. This will be followed at 6 p.m. by a gala fashion show presented around the swimming pool with models displaying fashions from both the East and the West. The colorful evening horseshow is set for 8 p.m. and will be immediately followed by the unusual auction. Guests will also enjoy dancing to the music of an orchestra. Food and beverages will be served throughout the evening.

Mrs. Thomas A. Taylor has been named party chairman, with Mrs. Michael S. Tormey serving as horseshow chairman. Auxiliary members will be on hand as informal hostesses throughout the day and evening.

The public is cordially invited to attend both the party and horseshows. All proceeds will go for the benefit of the children at the Stanford Convalescent Home.

'Bubbles' Gasses For Researchers

FORT COLLINS (UPI) — An artificial cow stomach named "Bubbles" promises American housewives more tender and flavorful beef for their tables.

Bubbles is an assemblage of glass tubes, flasks, plastic tubing and other scientific paraphernalia at the Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station at Fort Collins, Colo.

Her real name is invitro-fermentation apparatus. Her job —to produce gas.

By puttting different types of hay in the apparatus and adding stomach juices from a cow, scientists are able to determine the food value of feed. The food value is measured by the amount of gas produced by Bubbles in the chemical reaction that results.

What it finally boils down to is that the quality of beef depends mainly on the quality and nutritional value of the feed cattle eat.

Sails On Matsonia

Louis Luster Robinson, M.D., Marin County surgeon, sailed Wednesday on the Matsonia as ship's doctor. He will spend a few days in Hawaii and expects to return to San Rafael about Aug. 1.

TWO EVENTS MARK BIRTHDAY OF CARRIE KLYCE OF MILL VALLEY

Carrie Gray Klyce, one of Mill Valley's most beloved longtime residents, celebrated her 87th birthday informally Monday, but the family party honoring her will take place Sunday at the home of her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Klyce of Menlo Park.

Born in Yuba City, Calif., on July 11, 1873, Mrs. Klyce has lived at her present home in Mill Valley for more than 60 years. She is the only living founder of the Outdoor Art Club, the only living charter member and a past worthy matron of Mill Valley Chapter 219, Order of the Eastern Star, and the oldest member of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

Monday Mrs. Klyce was showered with many birthday cards and flowers, including a bouquet of pink carnations from her "secret pal" in the Past Worthy Matrons organization and an orchid from Mrs. Edward Hunt of Mill Valley, which she wore during a festive day.

Other highlights for her and her daughter, Mrs. Marian K. Andre who lives with her, were a luncheon with Mrs. Klyce's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klyce of Mill Valley, who took them to San Rafael to see her 17th great grandchild.

Five weeks old, Kevin Cary Klyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Klyce of San Rafael, is her youngest great grandchild, and this was the first time she had seen him.

Among those who will be present Sunday at the birthday celebration in Menlo Park will be her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Marsili of Mill Valley, who just returned from a three months' trip to Europe.

Also present will be a longtime family friend, Charles Christman of San Rafael, and Mrs. Maude Schwartz of Redwood City, formerly of Mill Valley.

El Circulo Has Annual Merienda

El Cirulo Espanol de Marin held its traditional merienda recently at the San Rafael home of the founder, Miss Maria Moya del Pino. Members of El Cirulo are students in Miss Moya's classes at College of Marin and San Rafael High School.

Mrs. Nick Kerry acted as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edna Weber.

Highlight was the cake made by Mrs. Kerry and decorated in Spanish colors with an American and Spanish flag. Miss Moya was presented with a gift for her new home, an iron candelabra made in Spain.

Those present were Miss Maria Moya del Pino, Messrs. and Mesdames Christof Scheiffele, Nick Kerry, A. W. Scheller, C. H. Bates, Lt. Col. and Mrs. E. A. Peters, Mesdames Carola Reinhardt, Edna Weber, Hazel Duval, Marjorie Winslow, Emma Gounod, Lula E. Horne, Martha Keever, Misses Una Biggs, Mary Amaral, Ada May Horne, and Mr. Hellmuth Dieterle.

JANET ELIZABETH BEESLEY

Janet Beesley To Be Bride In The Spring

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon Beesley of Ross announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Elizabeth Beesley, to Kenneth Areda Gelatti of Fairfax.

The traditional candle was passed at a recent meeting of the senior nursing class of the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, followed by the box of chocolates to announce the engagement.

Ken is the son of Mrs. Augustina Gelatti of Fairfax and Areda Gelatti of Richmond. He attended Sir Francis Drake High School and was graduated from the College of Marin where he was a member of the basketball and baseball teams. He is now employed in San Francisco as a draftsman. Donna Gelatti is his sister.

Jan attended Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California at Berkeley where she was affiliated with Delta Zeta. She is now studying nursing at the University of California Medical Center at San Francisco. She is the sister of Robert Beesley.

Young Camp Fire Girls Express Thoughts On Wealth At Service

"You can always find a friend if you look into the hearts of people" (Lauren Wilson, Fairfax, seventh grade)—"A courageous person must be able to carry out her own ideas and finish what she has started. If everyone does this our world will be ready for the future" (Jackie Oates, San Anselmo, seventh grade—Words of wisdom from the mouths of young Camp Fire Girl campers.

These and many more: "Life is paradise to every individual in her own surroundings" (Roberta Smith, Fairfax, seventh grade)—"Love begins small and expands—staying with you for your lifetime" (Pam Todd, San Rafael ,seventh grade)—were the thoughts of the girls at a recent combined Council Fire and Vesper Service held in the Chapel area at Camp Kilowana, the resident camp of Marin County Camp Fire Girls.

The theme of the service was "Wealths"—thus, their thoughts on love, friendship, beauty, courage, life and freedom. These excerpts from their talks seem to show a special awareness in our children of the real "wealths" in their lives.

Suzanne Gottschalk's thoughts on freedom were especially heartening. She said, "One of the most important wealths is freedom. Freedom is what we fight for all our lives. It is the goal of every person who ever lived and will ever live in this world. Freedom is the feeling of space, of clean, fresh air. It is the good feeling of looking at yourself and knowing that you can think anything you want to, say anything you please, make anything you choose, go anywhere you want to, and no one will hinder you.

"You can see freedom all around you. You can feel it as you stand on a hilltop with the wind blowing through your hair. You can detect freedom's ring in people's voices. You can see it in their faces. Freedom is a feeling so deep that we cannot fully express it with words. It is a feeling that will live in our hearts forever and ever."

Suzanne is also a seventh grader from Fairfax.

With these as their value, these girls are applying part of the Camp Fire Law—to worship God, seek beauty, and be happy.

Ruth Robinson Bride Of Frank Cockerline

Ruth Carolyn Robison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Robison of Kentfield, became the bride of Frank E. Cockerline, son of Mrs. James Benedict and the late Frank Cockerline of Norwalk, California, in a recent 8:30 evening ceremony performed by Rev. Wayne Hansen at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur.

The church was decorated with urns of white stock and two candelabra with white candles at the chancel and white bows at the pews.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Her gown was a white princess style silk organza over taffeta with long pointed sleeves and was trimmed in applique embroidered in seed pearls. Her veil was caught with a coronet of pearls. She carried a white Bible on which was placed a white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Dorothy Ann Gromm, sister of the bride, was honor matron and she and the bridesmaids, Jane Jones, Joan Barton, Claudia Gromm, and Mrs. Diana Bryson wore sheath dresses of white silk shantung and white veil hats with white and pale pink nylon leaves. They carried French bouquets of pink carnations. Mrs. Ann McCabe sang for the wedding, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Danly at the organ.

Louis Elliott was best man and Maynard Munger, Robert Elliott, Monte Rowell, and Bryce Whitmore were ushers.

Mrs. Robison wore a soft grey silk shantung dress for her daughter's wedding with pale pink accessories and a pink throated cymbidium corsage. Her light grey veil hat had a border of pink and blue flowers.

Mrs. Benedict chose for her son's wedding a beige ensemble and wore a buff colored orchid corsage.

Following the wedding ceremony the guests gathered at the home of the bride's parents for the reception in their lovely garden which was torch lighted. Background music was provided by Ted Vargiss.

The young couple spent their honeymoon along the Rogue River and are now living in San Francisco.

MV Women Voters To Continue Two-Way Program

The League of Women Voters of Mill Valley has completed plans for continuing its two-way program designed last year to cut apathy among absentee voters in response to a U.S. Defense Department request.

The reason for the apathy among members of the armed forces and government employees having been found to be connected with lack of information and a feeling of being out of touch with issues "back home," the League undertook the job of supplying information on candidates and issues.

This information will be sent by the League on request to servicemen or civilian personnel, and their families in Marin are urged also to send them the information, together with reminders about registration and voting.

To those servicemen or civilian government employees residing in Marin but registered in any other state, the Leagues "back home" will send information here.

Lists of state League presidents are posted on all bases and posts, and voting officers are using this league service to give new impetus to the voting day plans.

Mrs. James Good of 2074 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, is voters' service chairman of the Mill Valley League. She invites requests for information and urges all citizens to work with the Department of Defense to make armed forces voting day on Sept. 27 a day when apathy among absentee voters will be overcome.

Sportswear Designers Revive Knickers For Fall, Winter

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vicki and Don Cooper, a couple of young marrieds also young to the sportswear business, gave the feminine pants craze another push from behind.

The resurrected knickers for fall and winter.

"Only I wish I could think of another word for them," said Mrs. Cooper, a tall slim blonde with brown eyes.

"Knickers bring up visions of Englishmen on bikes and fat men on golf courses. But these bear no resemblance to the plus-fours of old. They are slim, hip-hugging bits of nonsense in mad clothes and madder fabrics. And they are ladylike."

The knickers resemble capri pants which women have been wearing for loafing and sports, except they are gathered to a band which buttons just below the knee.

"The pants craze has killed skirts," said Mrs. Cooper. "And the woman who doesn't want to wear pants now gets into culottes."

Cooper trousers, whether knickers or regular slacks, are cut to shape without a waistband because, Mrs. Cooper explained, "they look more feminine . . . don't look like something stolen from the men."

They also are cut one to one and one-half inches roomier through the hips than standard sizes because, "Let's face it, most women need that extra space."

Vicki, who since childhood has made her own clothes, ran up a wacky Christmas present for Don — a parka of shaggy fake fur immediately dubbed the "Hair Shirt."

Don, who looks and talks like Cary Grant, courageously wore the parka, friends admired, and pretty soon Vicki found herself with a whole string of friends in line for similar parkas.

She then added a shaggy fake fur hat, shaped like a megaphone when stretched upward to its full height, but crushable into a Cossack style.

She dubbed it the "Hoople," which as Don explained "means fun in the set we run around with."

Their first retail outlet was a shop in Stowe, Vt., and when Saks Fifth Avenue, New York, saw the concoctions they asked her to design a whole line of sports apparel for women.

She did another collection which Don sold across the country—while on vacation from his other job.

One year ago, they quit their respective jobs and joined as partners in business. Last Thanksgiving they got married.

In addition to knickers, the fall collection includes a yard-long stocking hat made of shaggy fake fur; after-ski boots also of phony fur shaped like an Eskimo's mukluks; reversible parkas and jackets of workman's denim on one side and curly lamb (fake) on the other.

Other items include reversibles of suede and lamb; a whole group of slacks in plain and patterned wools; and a hooded parka of a silk and dynel combination which looks like chinchilla. It is the costliest item in the line—retailing for $100.

Indoor Sliding Board Keeps Kiddies Busy

An indoor sliding board for the pre-school youngster will keep him occupied while mother goes about her household tasks. Such a board can be made easily in an evening by any home handyman.

The craftsman can use smooth-surfaced plywood two feet wide and six feet long. Underneath it, for supports, he'll use 1x2-inch framing on the sides and ends. He'll countersink the screws and fill the holes.

This length sliding board may be used on an indoor or outdoor stairway. It's intended for the older kiddies in the preschool bracket. For the younger ones, a board that's two feet wide and four feet long can be used indoors if propped against a low bed, couch or stool.

The side framing of the shorter board should be terminated about six inches from one end so that there will be a gap or "lip" that will fit over the support it will rest against when in use.

Keep the splinter-free surface waxed for best sliding.

Exercise To Stay Young

Dancing grandparents have the right idea. Step lively if you don't want to age as you grow old. Dancing, gardening, and even the exercise of keeping house help prevent the loss of muscle tone.

Kulmann-Rollins Rites Are Held In Berkeley

Recently united in marriage were Julia Barry Rollins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Rollins of Berkeley and Richard Warren Kulmann, son of Mrs. Lois Kulmann of Kentfield and the late C. Albert Kulmann.

Rev. Russell Staines and Rev. Walter Williams performed the double ring ceremony at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Berkeley at 4 p.m. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Gowned in Chantilly lace and tulle, Julia carried white orchids and bouvardia. Her attendants were Helen Dibble, cousin of the bride and maid of honor, from Redlands, and Elizabeth Staines from Seattle.

Best man for his brother was Charles Kulmann of Fullerton, Calif.

The bride's mother was dressed in cocoa faille with black accessories and carried bronze and green orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue violet organza dress with beige accessories.

The reception at the parish house of the church for 280 guests was followed by an informal gathering for friends of the couple at the Kulmann home in Kentfield.

Dressed in a pomegranate print suit with white accessories, the bride left with her husband for a wedding trip to Northern California. They are living in Arcata.

The bride was educated in the Berkeley schools, attended San Francisco State College, and will complete her last year at Humboldt State in Arcata. She is the sister of Dr. Fitzhugh Rollins Jr., of Redlands. She and the bridegroom are both interested in choral groups.

The bridegroom was educated in the Marin County schools, graduating from Sir Francis Drake High School. He is a graduate of San Francisco City College in professional photography. He served two years as a Naval photographer in the East and is employed at Swanlund's Photo Service in Eureka. He is a brother of Charles and Mrs. C. C. McDaniels of San Jose. His grandmother is Mrs. Katherine Asay of Lodi.

Boy Of Year Gives Tips On Dating

By VIVIAN BROWN

"There are lots of good boys around if you are seeking dates," Nick Beck, 17, of Hollywood, Calif., advises girls. "So why settle for less?"

Nick, the 1960 Boy of the Year, ought to know. He had to win over some 600,000 other good boys (we hope) all members of the Boys' Clubs of America.

What kind of advice does this handsome, healthy, jolly boy dish up for girls? How does he say they can tell a good boy from a bad one? Here's a yardstick for you, girls. Let's see how that current date measures up:

DATE YARDSTICK

1. What kind of friends does the boy enjoy? (Birds of a feather flock together.)

2. Does he take school seriously? (An indication of how he will apply himself to other projects.)

3. How about his personal appearance? (He should be clean and well-groomed and take pride in himself.)

4. Does he stand outside "beating the horn" when he calls for you at home? (He should appear cordial, polite, mannerly and greet your parents before you go out.)

5. Does he persist in spending the evening at your house even though he has invited you out? (Either you can't see the reason he likes you or you don't want to see it.)

Those are little guideposts, says Nick, but they hold true of many boys. He adds:

"It's wise not to accept a date just because you want to be popular. It's dangerous. Dutch treats are all right until the boy becomes a serious dater. It is not good after you become engaged because the boy seems more like an escort than a permanent date, and you will feel that he really doesn't care enough to save his money for your enjoyment."

Nick doesn't believe in blind dates.

"The only time a blind date is all right is when reliable people get you together. It's wise in most cases not to go out with a boy about whom you know nothing."

What kind of girl does this sensible, intelligent, realistic boy like? His surprising ideal is: Beautiful, blonde, shapely and DUMB.

BEAUTIFUL AND DUMB

Why dumb? Nick explains:

"Marriage depends on the man's maturity more than the girl's. It is the custom of our society that the man should be head of the house, the wage earner, smarter than his spouse. It works out better when she's not as bright as her husband."

Although Nick is from the film city, he has no desire to be in the movies and would reject an offer, he says, because "there is no use trying to be something you aren't. It would ruin me characterwise."

A DEEP, RIBBED white collar, cuffs the boat neckline of this slim travel sheath in bubbly, chenille-knit wool. Turnback cuffs on the three-quarter sleeves repeat the fresh white collar accent. It is famous for retaining its well-groomed looks through strenuous wear.

Proper Nourishment

For proper nourishment, these foods are a daily essential: enriched and whole grain breads and cereals, fruits, vegetables, milk and meat, eggs or a meat substitute.

Donna Davis Gives Details For Wedding

Donna Joyce Davis and Bruce Clarke McDiarmid, both of Mill Valley, revealed their engagement Sunday at a family gathering in the home of the prospective bridegroom. They have selected Aug. 6 as the date of their marriage.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Davis of San Francisco, where she was graduated from Lincoln High School, but she has been living with her grandparents,Mr. and Mrs. John I. Davis of Mill Valley.

Bruce is the son of Mrs. Selwyn Kempthorne of Mill Valley and Chester Ralph McDiarmid of Sausalito. He is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and attended San Francisco State College. He has two sisters, Mrs. John Charles Bradley and Barbara M. McDiarmid, both of Mill Valley.

Tentative plans are being made for a wedding at the Tamalpais Valley Community Church, to be followed by a garden reception at the Kempthorn home. After their marriage the young couple will live in Mill Valley.

Ice Cream Test Has Healthy Aim

NEW YORK (UPI)—A moving company has devised a test to help vacationing householders detect whether a temporary power failure during their absence has caused food in their freezers to spoil and become dangerous to eat.

The test consists of placing a small carton of ice cream in the top of the freezer with a scoopfull taken out of the center.

If thawing results from a temporary power failure, melted ice cream will run into the scooped-out area where it will show up even if it is re-frozen.

Wives Learn About High-Flying Mates

FT. RUCKER, Ala. (UPI)—The Army Aviation Center here has launched a new policy to educate wives about their aviator-husbands.

The Army bases the orientation program on the thory that education dispels ignorance and knowledge ends fear.

The Department of Primary Fixed Wing has enlarged the flight-line visit for wives to include personal chats with their husbands' flight instructors, briefing on classroom routine, and rides in the Link Trainer.

In the classroom, where a student pilot spends at least 220 hours, the wives sit at desks also, with manuals in hand, and listen as an instructor runs through subjects including meteorology, radio communications and flight planning.

And the Link, the hooded mechanism in which a pilot learns to fly on instruments while safely grounded, is no longer a mystery to the wives who have participated in the orientation program.

With a full complement of instructors on hand the wives exhibit their skill at flying straight and level while under the hood.

"The instructor said I was flying 200 feet underground," said Mrs. Van Barfoot, a student pilot.

Maj. Gen. Ernest F. Easterbrook, commanding general of the center, was impressed with the first orientation program and asked that Lt. Col. G. W. Jaubert, Primary Fixed Wing Director, continue the custom.

Large wallpaper designs make rooms seem smaller. They are best used in living rooms or foyers where there is little furniture.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

Women Find Public Hungry For Art

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Three pretty California girls have adopted supermarket-selling methods to build a successful art dealership.

Jamie Peterman, of Pasadena, Wanda Hansen, of Fortuna, and Toni Marchitelli, of Manteca, manage an art agency and gallery known as Art Unlimited.

The project started by chance in 1958 when Jamie and Wanda, each 24, took time off from their school teaching jobs to go driftwood collecting in Eureka, in Northern California.

They returned to find they couldn't sell driftwood that wasn't carved.

"So we signed up for a sculpturing course in Carmel," said Jamie, a pert blonde with a flashing smile.

While they were sculpting, they learned that the Carmel art market was glutted, so they decided to try selling some of the surplus.

"The artists didn't want to entrust their things to us at first," said Wanda. A museum curator vouched for them and they were on their way.

But instead of peddling art to the wealthy few, Wanda and Jamie took art to the masses, in supermarkets, casinos and street exhibits.

It sold, first in a San Francisco bar, then at a showing at a car raffle.

"When I heard what Jamie and Wanda were doing," said Toni Marchitelli, 23, "I just had to join them." Toni had known Jamie and Wanda at the University of California at Berkeley. She was a logical partner because she majored in art in college.

They opened a gallery when the paintings and other objects outgrew apartment storage space and the girls' patience.

Hoisting the art work around is no small problem.

"We always find friends to help us carry things around," Toni explained, but added with a laugh, that "after a while our helping friends stop being our friends."

So far Art Unlimited has shown at Reno and Sparks, Nev., Eureka and Santa Rosa, Calif., and on San Francisco's Maiden Lane.

With the art business growing, the three women still haven't completed their first project.

Pox Hits Zoo

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A gorilla, a chimpanzee and an orangutan are believed to be the first animals to catch chickenpox through natural exposure to the virus.

Dr. Werner P. Heuschele of the San Diego Zoological Gardens reported that all three animals became ill when there was a chickenpox outbreak in San Diego County. The apes had been handled and petted by children.

Frame Them

NEW YORK (UPI) — Family portrait photographs can create a focal point in your decorative scheme when you perk up a wall with a teenager's photographs. Include photographs taken from babyhood to the present. Hang the arrangement over a bureau or bench. Use white painted frames, brightly colored mats.

Grandmother Should Spell Busy Mom In Taking Care Of Children

"Why should I be expected to help my daughter-in-law?" a grandmother writes. "I'm 50 years old. I raised my children without help from anyone. I've earned a good rest.

"My son and daughter-in-law live in a nice neighborhood. They try to keep up with the Joneses. My daughter-in-law wants me to take care of her four small children at least one afternoon a week. She even asks me to babysit on Saturday nights. She presumes too much, doesn't she?"

I'm sorry to disagree. Are you in good health? Do you have normal mental and physical reactions? Do you have the time? Then I believe you should help your daughter-in-law.

Mothers of babies and small children nowadays are overworked. That's especially true of those who live in nice neighborhoods and try to keep up with the Joneses.

They have more labor-saving gadgets than you had. But they have higher standards. Probably your daughter-in-law feels disgraced if her laundry isn't done every day, not just on Mondays. Probably she feels she must clean the entire house daily. Probably her husband expects fancier meals than your husband expected. Probably her children's clothes must be changed a couple of times a day.

She wears herself out. She needs time off to recuperate.

When you are with your grandchildren, be sure you follow her rules. Don't suddenly introduce new requirements or revise the old ones. Some grandmothers make that mistake.

Try to let your grandchildren sense your love and support. They admire you. They want to be your friend. Help them create memories of companionship and contentment with you.

It won't be hard.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do modern children really need their grandparents?" M. H.

(A) They need their grandparents. Also their aunts, uncles and cousins. One of the weaknesses of our modern families is our lack of association with relatives. We're too isolated.

Mill Valley Explains Public Works Setup

(Editor's note: The City of San Anselmo is planning to create a public works department, embracing streets, building inspection and engineering under a fulltime director of public works. No city of similar size in Marin now has such a department, but the nearest approach is in Mill Valley — which has fewer people but virtually the same total assessed valuation at the Hub City. This article examines how Mill Valley's setup works.)

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A department of public works in Mill Valley does not exist in name. Yet the city has all of the ingredients for a department.

There are four main sections in the city setup which handle public works. The heads of each is responsible to City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

The section heads are Ross Benson, superintendent of public works and sewer plant; Stanley M. Bala, city engineer; Preston L. Canfield, building inspector, and Joe Penders, park superintendent.

For approximately 10 years Mill Valley did have a director of public works. Almcrants was the first named to that position, in 1948. He held the job for two and one-half years until he was appointed city manager. Several directors followed Almcrants.

Until 1958, the public works director was also building inspector. In that year, building inspection was made a fulltime job.

Breakdown of the four sections of public works as to number of men, their duties and salaries, is as follows:

Benson, as superintendent of public works, heads the streets and sewers department. Benson's salary is $564 per month. He has two foremen, Edwin Giesecke, heading the treatment plant crew and receiving $454, and Henry Fostine, foreman of the street crew, drawing $470.

There are six men in the street department with a total salary of $33,240. There are also six men in the sewer department with total annual salary of $34,900.

In a separate department is City Engineer Bala. He works on a fee basis with both city manager and city council giving him his assignments.

Bala does such work as surveys, work on gasoline tax projects, small craft harbor plans and specifications, the master plan for the marshlands. He is assisted at times by his partner, Jesper C. Strandgaard. The engineer works in his own office, not in the city hall.

During fiscal 1959-60, $6,052 was paid to Bala and $11,401 to his predecessor, Albert H. Siemer, in fees for regular work, apart from the small crafts harbor project—a nonrecurring and unusual item. The latter totaled $11,423 in fees to Bala and Strandgaard.

The position of building inspector pays $589 per month. In addition to building inspection duties, Canfield is liaison to the planning commission. His office calls for a secretary, a job held by Mrs. Pat Arnold at $304.

Park Superintendent Penders has two division under him. He is in charge of the parks, playgrounds and recreation division which has three fulltime, and one half-time man. He bosses a separate crew at the municipal golf course, also with three fulltime men and one half-time. Penders' salary is $540. The total annual salary for both divisions under him is $18,124 .

Wages, salaries and fees in the four divisions which make up what may be called the public works department thus totaled $138,971 for the past fiscal year, without counting the special cost connected with the small craft harbor—which was let to Bala and Strandgaard under special contract when Siemer was city engineer.

Costs in addition to salaries include equipment and its upkeep, office supplies, etc.

Marin Felony Convictions Below Average

Prosecutions of felony cases in Marin County superior courts during 1959 resulted in a 76.7 per cent record of convictions, according to "Crime In California, 1959," annual booklet issued by the California Bureau of Criminal Statistics.

This figure was based on 30 trials in which there were 17 convictions and only four acquittals in 21 jury cases, but six convictions as against three acquittals in nine non-jury trials.

It compares with a statewide average of 78 per cent convictions, with Alameda County making the highest average, 86.1 per cent convictions, and Sacramento the lowest with 67.7 per cent.

Marin had a total of 145 sentences imposed on felony defendants from superior courts, the discrepancy between this and number of cases being partly accounted for by guilty pleas requiring no trial. Of these, 29.7 per cent went to prison, 11 per cent served time in county jail, and probation was accorded 56.6 per cent, the report says.

Felony crime reports totaled 637 for Marin County over the year, burglary accounting for the largest number with a total of 378. Forgery and checks ran close second with 362, followed by 124 auto theft cases, 66 of other forms of theft, 42 of assault, 18 of robbery, five of forcible rape and four of wilful homicide. The miscellaneous balance came to 94.

Of the 637 felonies reported, 321 were in the sheriff's office jurisdiction — unincorporated territory. San Rafael police reported 165 felonies; San Anselmo and Mill Valley, each 45; Sausalito (in 11 months), 30; Belvedere, 13; Fairfax, 10; Corte Madera, seven; Larkspur, one, and Ross, none reported.

Adult felony arrests in Marin totaled 278, comprising 251 men and 27 women. Complaints were filed in 137 cases, 23 were released, 25 turned over to other jurisdictions and 33 misdemeanor complaints were filed.

Of the adult felony case arrests, the sheriff's office made 128. San Rafael and San Anselmo police departments arrested 49 each—the arrests outnumbering crimes in San Anselmo. Arrests by other departments were: Sausalito police (in 11 months), 22; Mill Valley, 20; Belvedere, four; Corte Madera, three; Fairfax, two; Larkspur, one, and Ross, none reported. (It should be noted that the arrest is not always made in the same jurisdiction where the crime occurs.)

Juvenile arrests for the year were 1,482, with San Rafael contributing 666, the sheriff's office accounting for 372, and San Anselmo, 282. Other points were under the hundred mark; Mill Valley, 68; Sausalito (for 10 months), 38; Corte Madera, 30; Belvedere, 13; Fairfax, eight; Larkspur, five, and Ross, none reported.

Check was made on Nov. 17 on the number of prisoners in county jails and camps and the Marin figure totaled 77

Marin Woman Sentenced For Embezzlement

Mrs. Elsie Hildreth, 43, of Mill Valley was sentenced yesterday to a one-to-10 year term in the Women's Prison at Corona for embezzling more than $10,000 from a San Francisco automobile company where she was bookkeeper.

Mrs. Hildreth pleaded guilty. She was sentenced by San Francisco Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth.

She was arrested May 7 at her home at 288 Sycamore Street, Mill Valley, on a charge leveled against her by her employer, Donald C. Wilhelm, manager of Taravel Rambler, Inc. in San Francisco. He claimed she embezzled more than $10,000 by raising the amount of checks made out by her for the firm over a period of two months.

Mill Valley Record Incorporated By Publisher, Aides

Thomas F. Collison, owner of the Mill Valley Record, has incorporated the weekly newspaper at $75,000 in $10 par shares, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced in Sacramento.

Directors are Collison, a San Francisco advertising agency executive and his wife, Elizabeth, who live at 110 Myrtle Avenue, Mill Valley; Jack Lentz, general manager of the Record, and Day Drexler, shop superintendent. Collison has owned the Mill Valley Record for six years.

Lentz said the incorporation did not indicate plans to expand the newspaper at this time. It was incorporated under the name Record-Messenger Newspapers, Inc.

China Camp Sanitation Plant Slated

Developers of Marin Bay subdivision and golf course on the old McNear Ranch in East San Rafael announced yesterday they hope to have a sanitation treatment plant built and ready for use, north of China Camp, by the first of next year.

Edwin Lee, spokesman for Latipac-Perini, Inc., and engineer Daniel Coleman discussed their plans with the San Rafael Sanitation Commission yesterday afternoon. They will build a plant to serve 16,000 persons who are expected to live at Marin Bay (formerly called Riviera Marin).

The sanitation commissioners asked Administrator Norris Rawles to see how much more it would cost if the plant were designed to serve a population of 24,000, which would include the whole area from Glenwood to Santa Venetia. Rawles hopes to have the cost figures ready at the next meeting, set for 12:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Latipac-Perini spokesmen said they could design a larger plant for 24,000 population if the sanitation district would pay the difference in cost between the larger and smaller plant. The sanitation commissioners also gave Latipac-Perini permission to build a temporary septic-type sewage disposal until the treatment plant is built next year.

Firemen Name New Officers

Belvedere volunteer firemen has nominated officers for the coming year, according to Elmer Fraas.

They are: President John C. Ericson; vice president A. P. Anderson; treasurer Ronald Simpson; secretary E. Eubanks.

Volunteers will hold their annual beer bust for all Belvedere males over 21 at the firehouse on the night of July 29. Those attending are asked to "bring your own mug," Fraas said.

The Belvedere firemen's ball is scheduled for Aug. 26 at the Corinthian Yacht Club.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Builder Granted Permit Extension

San Rafael builder William H. McDevitt was granted a 60-day extension of his use permit by the Sausalito Planning Commission Wednesday to continue with his proposed 60-unit apartment building on South Street.

His one-year permit was due to expire July 22. Delays in starting the project have been encountered, he said.

Leonard Bjorklund Jr., attorney for property owners in the area, asked the commission to refuse the extension. The permit was bitterly contested a year ago.

Ranch Purchased At Pierce Point

Joseph H. Mendoza, Inverness rancher, and his wife, Doris, have purchased the 1,140-acre L Ranch and dairy business at Pierce Point of Ernest Ghisletta.

Purchase price listed with the county recorder is $216,000.

The ranch will be operated in partnership with the Mendozas by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lobaugh. The L Ranch dairy herd milks about 100 cows.

Novato Firemen To Host County Assn.

The latest in gas masks and gas protection equipment for firemen will be demonstrated tonight when Novato firemen will be hosts to members of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments.

About 75 firemen are expected to attend the meeting, beginning at 8 p.m. at Firehouse No. 2 on South Novato Boulevard. Novato Fireman Robert Busher is chairman of meeting arrangements.

S.F. HOME SHOW OFFERS UNUSUAL

Kari Sandino toasts fingers and toes by this replica of an early pot belly stove, one of a display ranging from this model to contemporary fire tools. The exhibit will be shown at the San Francisco Home Show July 22-31 at the Cow palace.

School Annex Move Gains At Quentin

A majority of residents in San Quentin School District seem to favor annexing to the San Rafael School District.

This was disclosed Wednesday night at a meeting of the San Quentin School Board when petitions for annexation were presented.

Bruce L. Russell, member of the board, said today the exact counts pro and con annexation are not yet known because many people could not be contacted. However, by next Thursday final figures should be known, he reported.

The Parent-Teacher Assn. circulated the petitions, urging that the school district join the San Rafael district.

TAMING OF THE DAME

Alan Burdick illustrates one way of taming woman by tossing Kim Badger over his shoulders in the Tamalpais Valley Players production "The Taming of the Shrew." The play will open today at 8:30 p. m. at the Tam Valley Improvement Club. Burdick has the part of Petruchio and Miss Badger that of Kathryn, the shrew. Ticket reservations may be made through Mrs. Edmund C. Heine of 385 Marin Avenue, Mill Valley. (Bert Howell photo)

Eight 4-H Members Receive Leader Awards From Bank

Eight 4-H Club members in Marin County have been presented leadership awards worth $11.50 by the Bank of America to help pay their fees at the first State 4-H Leadership Conference, to be held Aug. 29-Sept. 2 at the University of California at Davis.

John Baccigalupi, manager of the San Rafael Bank of America, presented the awards to Sherri Luzzi, Tri-Valley Club; Lauren Sievers, Nicasio Club; Richard Brown, Ross Valley Club; Bette Benaski, Novato Aggies Club; Joan Hamstra, San Rafael Community Club; Joan Carrillo, Novato Valley Club; Jack Matthews, Point Reyes-Olema Club, and Cherita Murphy, Novato Miwok Club.

About 1,400 members and leaders are expected at the conference. Other Marin delegates will include:

Bob Porteous and Pat Keena of Novato Miwok Club; Sharon Ward and Ted Munkres of Nicasio 4-H Club; Chris Dauphinee, Tri-Valley Club; Millard Walline and Linda Dimmick, Novato Aggies Club; Jean Zerbe, John Irwin, and Bob Scheidtmann of San Rafael Community Club; Linda Azevedo of Novato Valley Club; Carol Buoy, Point Reyes Club, and Kathy Robinson of Novato Jets 4-H Club.

Mimi Baccaglio, Marin County dress revue winner, also will attend.

Bill Melson of Novato will chaperone.

Improvement Club At Inverness Names Officers

John H. Mundo will head the Inverness Improvement Club for another year.

Also re-elected by directors after the club's annual election meeting was Mrs. Owen Halse, treasurer. Ray Randall was elected vice president, and Donald M. Patterson Jr., secretary.

Elected by the membership to the board of directors were Mrs. Halse and Mrs. M. L. Mery (both re-elected), Patterson and Corwin Mocene.

The club directed Mrs. Gus S. Miller to write the California Public Utilities Commission asking an investigation into the sale by Lawrence Marks, former owner of the Inverness Water Co., of a piece of the watershed property for real estate development.

THE MOST EXCITING THING THAT EVER HAPPENED TO HOUSE PAINT!

New! from Martin Senour

Paints over damp surfaces · Dries in 30 minutes to a rich low sheen · Flows on in half the time · Water-thinned, water clean-up · Outlasts other paints by years · Blister, fume and mildew resistant

The most Permanent Colors under the Sun

It's a "do-it-yourselfer's" dream—Martin Senour Aqua-Bond water-thinned house paint. Now you can actually paint over damp surfaces—immediately after a storm, on top of early morning dew. Aqua-Bond smooths on effortlessly . . . dries to a beautiful low sheen so rapidly that bugs, leaves and dust can't cling. Completely blister, fume and mildew resistant on properly prepared surfaces. It takes only water for quick clean-up of brushes, tools, windows. The colors—a wondrous range—are the most permanent under the sun—there's no fade on pastels or accents. Next painting—take it easy . . . make it last with Martin Senour Aqua-Bond House Paint.

Beetle Life Recorded

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Scientists at the Oregon Forest Lands Research Center eavesdropped on the Douglas fir bark beetle with microphones and discovered a story of beetle family life.

At 9:10 p.m. the first day, papa arrived home and a rhythmic cricket-like chirping began, mixed with irregular, sharp, staccato noises.

The scientists could not determine if it was a family fight because Mr. Beetle got home late or if it was the usual beetle welcome.

At 9:38 all sound stopped.

At 9:55 there was some occasional scratching, which researchers said could have been the female excavating or preparing dinner.

At 10:19 vigorous chewing began, indicating the family had sat down to dinner.

Next day sounds like lusty singing as the beetles cleaned house were heard by the scientists. The mike picked up the noise of sweeping and every now and then bark dust was pitched out of a hole in the log.

The scientists said they knew the difference between the male and female bark beetles because the one doing all the housework was always the female. As might be expected, the one making all the grumbling noises was invariably the male.

Hub City Girl Starts Out For Austria

(Shirley Simpson, a 1960 graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, is participating in the Experiment in International Living Program. The following was written aboard the S. S. Waterman en route to Rotterdam. She will proceed to Wolfsberg, Austria, to spend the summer with an Austrian family. Shirley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Simpson of Woodacre.)

By SHIRLEY SIMPSON

We have been at sea four days and I haven't even had a touch of seasickness yet. I think I'm a born sailor, since this is the first time I've ever been on any kind of boat.

The ship is really nice. But of course we are traveling economy class and have to sleep in dorms. It is awfully crowded but lots of fun.

There are about 800 passengers on board and 700 of them are students. There's one adult leader per 10 kids. Most of these students are from eastern colleges—Yale, Harvard, Amherst and similar places. They're really sharp, by which I mean intelligent. A few, like me, are just out of high school.

They keep us plenty busy. We are required to attend a certain number of lectures every day which cover many aspects of European culture and politics.

Our small group meets twice each day for German lessons and we are also required to attend music and art lectures given by instructors from various university groups on their way to Europe. My German teacher is from Rochester University. I'm certainly glad I studied a little German before I left. It has really helped me to get a good start.

The music lecturer is a concert violinist who also gives recitals every night with a concert pianist on board. All of the lectures and the recitals are of topnotch quality. I especially like the lectures on philosophy.

All of this goes on between meals. There isn't time for much else. At night, though, after dinner, there is usually folk singing on deck. Lots of kids brought guitars with them.

The ship's crew is Dutch and they all wear white shorts, knee socks, and shirts. The cabin boys are short, dark Indonesians who speak little or no English. But after a while you get pretty good at sign language and you can usually get what you need.

Our group leader is Joe Wikenhauser, known as "Wik." He tells us we will get to travel to Vienna and spend about a week there. Another of our side trips will be to Venice, Italy.

One of the things he taught us is always keep our hand on the edge of the dinner table. We're told it is considered impolite not to do this in Austria.

Marin County and Drake High seem worlds away right now and it seems ages since graduation. Maybe when we get to Roterdam and get among land people again, get our feet on land again, see something besides water and sky—maybe then I'll feel as though I've come back to earth at least.

PREVIEW OF BAZAAR DAY

Crowds of buyers were in Corte Madera Shopping Center for the preview of Bazaar Day, a gigantic, one day out-door sale opening tomorrow at Marin County's only regional shopping center. Raymond Thorton and his children are trying a sport shirt held by Barbara Frank, while John Gray, president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council, and Donna Billinghurst and Fran Elder watch. All stores in the center are cooperating in bringing one of the greatest merchandising events in the history of Marin County to the shopping center in the mammoth, one day sale.

Hitch-Hiking Hen

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP)—The hen got a ride, the farmer got an egg, and everybody had a big laugh.

That's what happened when Ed Edwards of Moultrie drove to the nearby farm of R. J. Deas to make plans for picking cotton.

A loud cackling from Edwards' truck interrupted the conversation. One of his hens had built a nest under the back seat of the truck and had settled down before the farmer left home.

Policeman Is Loser

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — City patrolman Jon Sellers finished his breakfast, looked around the restaurant and promptly filled out a theft report.

His police cap was missing from a nearby hat rack.

TALKING OVER BARGAIN PLANS

Barbara Frank and John Gray, president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council, talk over plans for the Bazaar Day, the one day outdoor sale to be held at Corte Madera Shopping Center tomorrow. The sale, which will include every shop in the regional shopping center, is one of the largest ever planned at the center, and will include the largest variety of goods ever offered in any shopping center in Marin County. Everything from garden furniture to frozen foods will be on sale during the one-day event. Sales will start promptly at 9:30 a. m., according to Gray. Ample, free, no limit parking is available in the 2100 car capacity parking lot.

Ship Takes Lethal Gas Away From Germany

HAMBURG, Germany — Nazi Germany's most deadly gas, which Adolf Hitler never dared to use, is being dumped into the Atlantic Ocean.

The West German government is salvaging lethal nerve gas encased in 150 millimeter artillery ammunition from the bottom of the Baltic Sea where it was sunk on British orders right after the war.

A 997-ton steamer, the August Peters, is taking the salvaged gas ammunition to an undisclosed spot for sinking into the vast depths of the Atlantic Ocean.

The strange mission of the tiny steamer, which made one journey in March, and is scheduled to make a second and final run late this month, has been dubbed "top secret" by the West German government.

Officials in the nation's capital in Bonn and the local Schleswig Holstein state government in Kiel feared foreign nations might protest if they found the gas — a fraction of an ounce of which is supposed to kill an adult — is dumped in a spot they consider not far enough from their coast.

Officials flatly refused to reveal the destination of the August Peters first trip and similarly referred to government classification orders when asked where the second load of gas shells would be dropped into the sea.

They merely said the action was taking place in international waters far off any coast.

The operation — one of the strangest in the aftermath of World War Two — began last year.

The Schleswig Holstein state government warned then that a total of 68,000 Howitzer shells filled with the deadly nerve gas "Tabun"—a code name given it by the Nazis—were aboard two small ships scuttled on British orders a few miles off the state's Baltic Coast in 1945.

The ammunition, an arsenal of death estimated to contain sufficient gas to annihilate millions of people, was found by advancing British troops at a secret Nazi store at Munsterlager in lovely Lueneburg heath toward the end of the war.

Horrified London officials issued the dumping order.

Later, however, German authorities going through old records learned the ammunition had been sunk without protective cover. In time, they suspected, salty sea water would eat up the metal shells and free the lethal gas into the Baltic Sea.

Maritime life would be poisoned in hundreds of square miles and human lives endangered as well.

Under government orders and at costs estimated at $250,000 for salvaging operations alone, divers went down to retrieve the shell cases.

Aboard the August Peters the shells were placed into steel barrels and sealed with a special concrete designed to withstand sea water forever.

A canary bird and a few grasshoppers were aboard the ship and served as safety devices.

Scientists said that if even one-thousandth of an ounce of gas escaped during salvaging operations the canary and grasshoppers, living in separate cages, would drop dead instantly and give the crew time to don gas masks.

"Hansi" the canary, and the grasshoppers all were reported in good health so far.

When reports leaked out in local newspapers that the August Peters was replenishing fuel and food in Kiel harbor shortly before going into the Atlantic for the first dumping mission in March, terrified people bombarded the local government with protests.

State Interior Minister Helmut Lembke promptly ordered the vessel to leave port.

The "death ship" as local German newspapers described it, replenished in Kiel Bay, miles from the city.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Police said a burglar who took $21 from a branch library left a note promising to repay the money in installments of at least $5 each.

Newly Found Lung Disease Linked To Antibiotics Use

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new lung disease is more likely the indirect result of antibiotics than of the potent spray chemicals with which insects are slaughtered and women set their hair, in the opinion of an investigating team of medical scientists.

The disease has been factually named pulmonary alveolar proteinosis which means an invasion of lung air cells by a substance which chemically is protein. The first case appeared in 1953. Since then there have been 35 known cases, and the fatality rate was 34 per cent.

The scientific team represented four branches of medical science, radiology, pathology, surgery and medicine. It was comprised of Drs. Henry P. Plenk, Shelley A. Swift, Wallace L. Chambers, and Wesley E. Peltzer of the University of Utah, Salt Lake City.

The antibiotics are great life-savers, being great killers of disease-causing bacteria. Penicillin is one. The team argued antibiotics may also alter body defenses and a harmless micro-organism could thus become a sickening germ.

Or the broad spectrum antibiotics which are lethal to a wide variety of the body's bacterial inhabitants, good ones as well as bad ones, could so change this parasitic population that a harmless one which had been held in check by competition, could multiply and cause much trouble.

For this to track you have to keep in mind that some bacteria are not killed by any antibiotic, and viruses are immune to them. The scientists were unable to prove their views. They offered them as a theory which accounted for the known facts.

GETTING TABLES READY

George Campanelli, Louis-George Men's Wear, gives Donna Billinghurst a hand in getting one of the tables ready for tomorrow's Corte Madera Shopping Center Bazaar Day. The one-day, outdoor sale will encompass the entire shopping center and will feature everything from wearing apparel to foodstuffs. The tables, loaded with merchandise, will be set up in the Mall of the huge regional shopping center, according to Bob Guelld, promotion chairman of Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Britain Threatening To Burst At Seams

LONDON (UPI) — Britian is threatening to burst at the seams.

The "tight little island" with a population of 52 million—more than one-fourth that of the whole United States, jammed into an area of 94,000 square miles which is roughly that of the state of Oregon—is fast running out of space.

The government is expected to launch an all-out campaign soon to get British cities to build upwards like American cities instead of sprawling outwards across a fast-dwindling countryside.

It the present trend continues, with every Briton wanting his own home and backyard, the country's town planners fear that in a decade or so most of southern and central England will become one continuous Levittown-like development.

The problem, they say, is similar to that in the Boston-New York-Philadelphia area, except that Britian, as an island, just can not expand.

Red lights flashed in government offices and Parliament lobbies recently when reports of skyrocketing speculative real estate prices hit the nation's front pages.

It was revealed that prices of land for building lots near London and other big cities suddenly were soaring from $2,800 an acre to $70,000.

Speculators were reported buying up lots in the so-called "green belt" area around London, where zoning laws ban building now, for prices up to $280,000 an acre.

Mrs. Joyce Butler, a Laborite backbencher, told Parliament she knew of one site where this price had been paid in the hope that a building permit would be given.

The "green belt" is a strip about 10 miles wide around outer London where building is forbidden in an effort to prevent the city's southward growth.

The Laborite opposition, searching for an issue over which to beat the Conservative government on the head, hurriedly latched on to the land boom "scandal."

Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaitskell hinted at plans to "nationalize" land if necessary. He also proposed special taxes on profits from real estate speculation.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillian, anxious not to be left behind, started whipping counter-plans together.

One of these repotredly includes legislation to give the government authority to buy up and demolish one and two-story buildings in city areas to enable tall American-style office and apartment buildings to be erected in their place.

Corte Madera Shopping Center All Abuzz As Bazaar Days Announced

The Corte Madera Shopping Center will take on the atmosphere of a sidewalk bazaar tomorrow for a special one-day sale.

Every one of the 36 merchants in the big center will participate in Bazaar Day, according to Bob Guelld, head of the center's promotional committee.

A carnival atmosphere will invade the center. Wares will be displayed in the malls of the center, with outdoor selling the big attraction. Booths will be set up by each of the shops in the center, with goods ranging from apricots to zebra pants on open air display.

In conjunction with the event, every participating shop has promised outstanding values, and promise an outstanding event that will be welcomed by the buying public of the county.

The sale will start at 9:30 a.m. and close at 5:30 p.m., said John Grey, president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council.

Free, no time-limit parking is available in the 2,100-car capacity parking area, the largest off-street parking area in Marin County.

Red-Faced Redskins

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) —One event at the American Indian Exposition was an Indian "raid" on an old locomotive arriving for the festivities. As the Indian horsemen approached the train, the whistle sounded. The red men were pitched from their frightened horses and completed their task on foot.

Mansion For Mankind

MARLBORO, N. J. (AP)—A large mansion designed after George Washington's homestead in Mount Vernon stands in rolling countryside here on a 345-acre estate.

Mrs. Sara S. Collier, widow of the late magazine publisher, decided to put its beauty and utility to good use in 1927 by giving the estate to the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, a Roman Catholic community of nuns.

Today emotionally disturbed girls, many from broken homes, are helped toward proper life adjustment in the big mansion, called Collier School of the Good Shepherd Convent.
